

Folsom Wants To Retire From Cabinet Post

Welfare Secretary Tells Ike He Will Resume Private Life

Washington —P— Secretary of Welfare Folsom has informed President Eisenhower he wants to return to private life some time this year.

White House Press Secretary James C. Hagerty, gave this word to reporters today. But he said in reply to questions that no letter of resignation has been received as yet from the chief of the department of health, education and welfare.

In congress, there were reports that Folsom will be succeeded by Arthur S. Flemming, president of Ohio Wesleyan university and former head of the office of defense mobilization.

Asked about these reports, Hagerty said:

"Until I know there is a vacancy, I have no comment."

Doesn't Give Details
The press secretary said Folsom, former treasurer of the Eastman Kodak Co., first told Eisenhower about a year ago that he would like to return to private life some time this year.

Folsom expressed that wish anew to the president about two or three months ago. Hagerty added.

Told of a report that the resignation of Folsom and appointment of Flemming as a successor will be announced tomorrow, Hagerty replied:

"Not that I know of."

Folsom, 64, has been welfare secretary since Aug. 1, 1955.

He is now in Florida on an extended vacation, taken upon his doctor's recommendation. He began the rest April 1.

Cypriot Leader Talks of New War

Nicosia, Cyprus —P— Greek underground commander George Grivas warned Britain today that unless Greek Cypriots are given self-determination his Eoka rebels will wage a new war even more bitter than that of the last three years.

"The black November of 1956 will pale before the months to come," he declared in a leaflet distributed here.

Twenty-six British nationals were killed by Eoka bombs and bullets in November, 1956 — the bloodiest month of the Eoka campaign.

$200 Million in Aid Sought by Bolivia

La Paz, Bolivia —P— President Hernan Siles Zuazo has asked the United States for $200 million in aid over the next four years to buy time for Bolivia to solve her economic problems.

Without new U. S. aid, Siles Zuazo told visiting Vice President Nixon yesterday, Bolivia's economy could collapse in eight months. And that could bring down his government, the moderate president said, leading the first to communist and then to fascist rule.

The United States already is providing an estimated one-third of the budget for the land-locked South American republic, and has supplied $88 million for its support since 1953.

6 Children, 3 Adults Wounded as Result of Neighborhood Quarrel

San Francisco —P— A berserk janitor poured shotgun fire into a neighbor's crowded apartment last night, wounding three adults and six children. One of the children was hurt critically.

"I was out of my mind. I didn't mean to do it, but they vexed me so bad," cried William Edward Breeze, 37, who fled the scene but called police 45 minutes later to come and get him.

He was booked for investigation of a charge of assault with intent to commit murder.

The shooting climaxed a long-standing neighborhood feud in the Potrero Hill Negro housing development.

Police racing to the scene found Breeze's wife, Mary, 29, weeping in her apartment at 21 Watchman Way. Witnesses said she held a revolver at one window of the apartment of Mrs. Aline Herbert at 23 Watchman Way while Breeze fired a

Lebanon to Ask U. S. Aid of $170 Million

Sets Stiff Terms of Acceptance Or It May Turn to Soviet Union

BY TOM MASTERSON

Beirut —P— The government decided today to ask the United States for $170 million in unconditional aid.

It also spelled out stiff terms under which Lebanon will accept U. S. help.

"If the American government rejects these terms," Public Works Minister Khalil Hibri said, "the government will not hesitate to reject all American aid."

This would pave the way for Lebanon to accept offers of economic aid from any country, presumably including the Soviet Union.

U. S. Plan Assailed
For months Lebanese politicians and newspapers have been attacking the U. S. aid program as too small. Since 1952 Lebanon has received more than $38 million in economic aid in addition to military aid.

Hibri said the cabinet of Premier Sami Seli has approved these new conditions in a series of extraordinary meetings. The United States must give Lebanon $170 million over the next six years beginning in July.

American aid will be rejected "if it is not effectively unconditional and sufficient." The United States must abandon the principle whereby Lebanon pays 50 per cent of the cost of all aid projects.

Denies Ike's Plan Means Blank Check For Defense Chief

Department Comptroller Says No Action Taken on Next Budget

Washington —P— The Pentagon's top money man told congress today it would not be signing a blank check for $40 billion if it gave the secretary of defense the spending leeway President Eisenhower asks.

Assistant Secretary of Defense W. J. McNeil, comptroller of the department, testified before the house armed services committee that the administration has not yet decided exactly how it will present next year's defense budget so as to carry out the president's purpose of providing more flexibility. But he said none of the methods under consideration "involve any new or particularly novel principles as far as we can see."

Fear Centralization
McNeil said the spending proposal, one of the most controversial parts of Eisenhower's plan for reorganizing the defense department, has been the subject of a great deal of misunderstanding.

Some members of the committee contend that a centralized appropriation procedure is the aim of a provision in the reorganization bill repealing the requirement that the armed services be "separately administered."

McNeil's testimony also was aimed at two other criticisms which have been advanced against department procedures — that budget officers appear to have much to say about military planning and that the department of defense has simply grown too big.

McNeil said it has always been considered the comptroller's duty to assemble and present to the secretary of defense the background information on the various programs prepared independently by the separate services, so that the secretary can make his recommendations on fitting these within the budget.

The fact is, McNeil said, that the real decisions "are made Turn to Page 6, Col. 6

Many Arrested In Indonesia

Prisoners Accused Of Subversive Action Against Government

Jakarta, Indonesia —P— Military security forces rounded up scores of Indonesians and some Chinese last night, including the correspondent of the nationalist Chinese Central News agency.

A spokesman for the Jakarta garrison said those arrested were accused of subversive activities against President Sukarno's government.

There was no indication that any Americans were involved, although Sukarno and other Indonesian government officials have charged U. S. nationals and nationalist Chinese with aiding the rebellion against the Jakarta government.

Newsman Arrested
The newsman arrested was S. T. Hsieh, an Indonesian citizen of Chinese descent who is also the local correspondent for Time and Life. His wife said the arresting military police had asked Hsieh if he was a member of Chiang Kai-shek's Kuomintang organization. She said her husband denied he was.

The local foreign correspondent's committee — of which Hsieh is a member — appealed to the foreign ministry for his release and notified the international press institute at Zurich.

Meanwhile, armed guards were posted throughout the capital, in some key areas standing only 15 feet apart. There was no explanation of the stringent precautions.

Says Hearings Help Shape Labor Measure
Washington —P— Sen. John F. Kennedy (D-Mass.) said today he thinks subcommittee hearings on a labor reform bill already have helped to determine the final form the legislation will take.

The subcommittee, which heard two witnesses yesterday called two more today. They are Sen. H. Alexander Smith (R-N.J.), presenting President Eisenhower's 1958 labor recommendations, and Sen. Carl T. Curtis (R-Veb.), who wants to tighten a legal ban on secondary boycotts.

Court Reverses Winnebago Adoption Ruling

Foster Parents Lose Child Refused Them By Welfare Officials

Madison —The state Supreme court today backed the department of public welfare in its refusal to allow an Oshkosh couple, Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Westphal, to adopt a 4-year-old child for whom they had been foster parents for two years.

Age of the couple — the husband is 51 and the wife 43 — and the awareness of the child's natural mother of the location of her child were the reasons cited by the welfare department in refusing the adoption.

Reversed Ruling
In its decision handed down today, the court reversed the Oct. 23, 1957, ruling of County Judge Herbert J. Mueller of Winnebago county. The judge had granted permission to the Oshkosh couple to adopt the child and waived the requirement of the state department consent.

In the decision, written by Justice Emmert L. Wingert and to which there was no dissent, the court ruled the lower court should not have waived the consent requirement.

The state board of public welfare at its Nov. 14 meeting voted to appeal the decision to the Supreme court.

In his decision Judge Mueller called the actions of the welfare department in its refusal "arbitrary, capricious and not based on substantial evidence."

Court Upholds Award For Injury at Ball Game

Anyone who invites the public to a public amusement place is liable for injury sustained by guests, the court said, if the amusement place operator has not taken reasonable and appropriate measures to restrict the conduct of others present.

Foreign Ministers Don't Want to Weaken Position For Sake of Propaganda

Copenhagen —P— Foreign ministers of six NATO nations told the Big Three today to push ahead for a summit conference with the Russians but not to weaken their position for the sake of a big propaganda show.

One by one the foreign ministers at their North Atlantic pact conference suggested that the United States, Britain and France continue their efforts to find out what the Russians want to talk about at a summit conference.

They said the west should enter the top level talks only if the preliminary negotiations show a chance of easing world tensions.

Speaking at the session were the ministers of Italy, Denmark, Canada, Norway, Portugal and Belgium.

German Unity Issue
Several ministers said German reunification must be raised at any summit conference. Failure to do so, they said, would be tacit recognition of the Russian contention that reunification is something for the two Germans to handle by themselves.

The smaller NATO nations made these other points:

1. The world should move to a suspension of nuclear weapon tests on two conditions. One is to wait until the United States and Britain have completed their current series of tests. The other is to halt tests only under an agreement with Russia with ironclad controls.

2. The west should sign no agreement with Russia which requires the withdrawal of United States, British or Canadian troops from European soil.

3. Russia's recent attitude as reflected in Moscow and in the U.N. Security council raise a grave doubt whether a summit conference could be successful now.

One minister suggested the United States might handle the whole western case in preparing a summit conference. There was no U. S. reaction to this but Washington is already on record as preferring the 3-power approach.

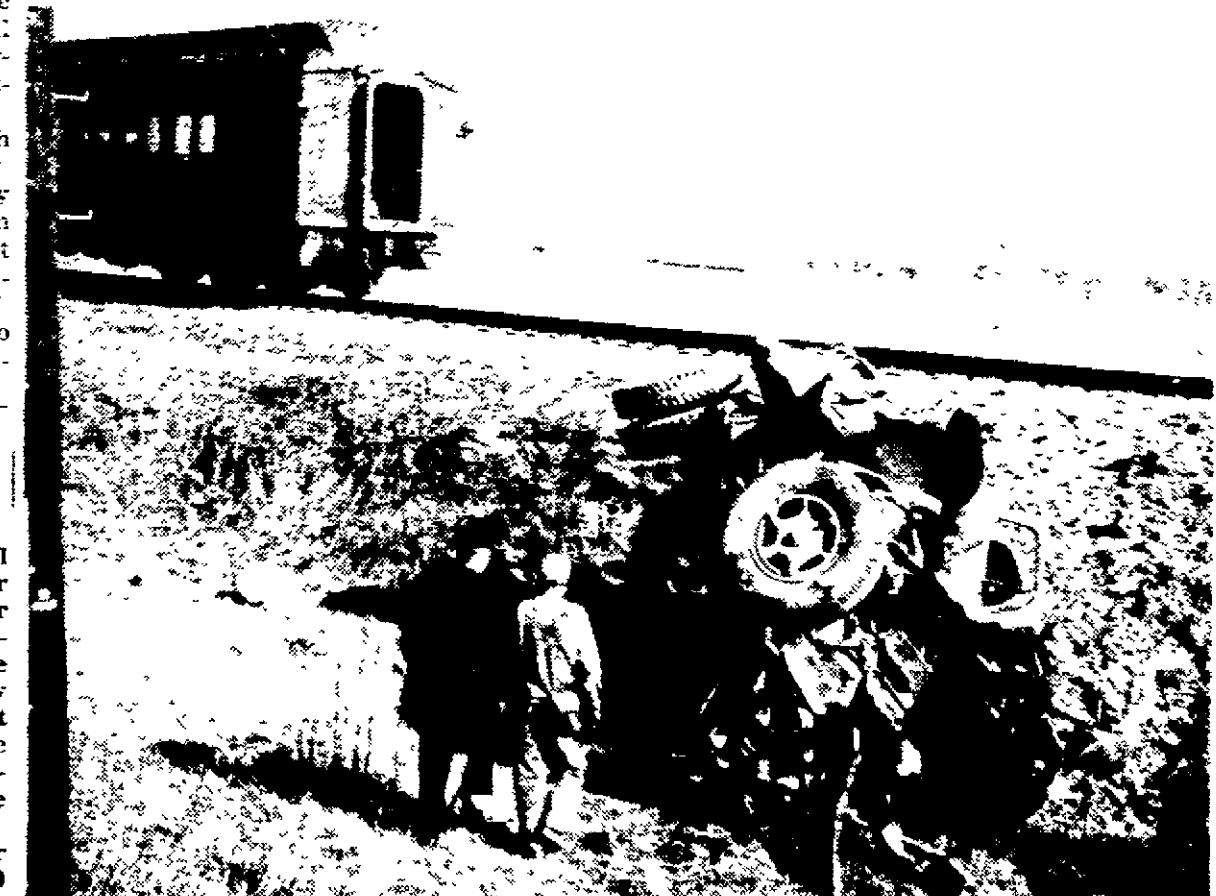

The Big Three foreign ministers listened but did not speak at the morning session.

The ministers went into the session with the feeling that Moscow is now on the defensive in summit conference negotiations because the west has pinned it down on what should be discussed.

Truckload of Butter Overturns on Highway
Chicago —P— A huge refrigerator truck loaded with butter overturned on U. S. Route 12, near suburban Palatine, today seriously injuring the driver.

The injured man, Harold J. Pletzer, 32, Spring Green, Wis., was taken to St. Joseph's hospital in Elgin where he was on the question of withdrawal treated for a possible skull fracture, a broken leg and bruises.

Traffic on the busy highway was partly blocked because wrecking crews were unable to move the big truck with ordinary equipment.

Trutt, 53, route 5, Oshkosh, the truck driver, was thrown clear by the impact, miraculously escaping death. His condition was reported not critical today at Theda Clark hospital, Neenah. Three States Hold Primary Elections

Selection of Governor Candidates Highlights Alabama, Ohio Voting; State, Local Jobs Up in Indiana

By the Associated Press

Voters cast ballots in three states today in primary elections that involve contests for nominations ranging from governor to township offices.

Selection of candidates for governor highlights contests in Ohio and Alabama, while nominees for congress and a variety of state and local offices will be picked in Indiana.

Light turnouts were forecast for Ohio and Indiana, but a heavy vote was expected in Alabama where 14 candidates sought the Democratic nomination—equivalent to election—for governor. School segregation was a major issue.

Differ in Degree

Each of the Alabama aspirants advocated a continuation of segregation but they differed in degree. Some advocated closing schools threatened with integration, while others promised to fight to keep them open on a separate-but-equal basis.

In Ohio, seven candidates vied for the Democratic nomination for governor. They included former federal price stabilizer Michael V. DiSalle, the Democrats' 1956 nominee. Opinion was divided about DiSalle's chances of winning the nomination again. Some observers put him ahead of the field, but others believed he faced rugged opposition. Two mayors were among other candidates, Anthony J. Celebrezze of Cleveland and Maynard E. Sensenbrenner of Columbus.

Standby Candidate

Gov. William O'Neill, who defeated DiSalle in the 1956 general election, sought Republican renomination. His only foe was former Mayor Charles P. Taft of Cincinnati, a brother of the late Sen. Robert Taft.

But Taft disclaimed his opposition and said he actually was supporting O'Neill. Taft entered the race after O'Neill suffered a heart attack last January. Announcing as a standby candidate, Taft has remained in the running despite assurances from O'Neill that it was unnecessary in view of the governor's apparent recovery.

In the senatorial primary, neither Republican incumbent John W. Bricker nor Democrat Stephen M. Young had opposition.

Two Republican congressmen faced tough opposition in Indiana primaries. They were Reps. Cecil M. Harden of the 6th district and Charles B. Brownson of the 11th district. Mrs. Harden was bucking the challenge of Robert S. Webb, while Brownson bid for renomination against Donald C. Bruce.

Nominal Opposition

Three other congressmen were regarded as having only nominal opposition and six incumbents had none at all.

A byplay of the Alabama primaries was the race for 72 seats on the state's Democratic executive committee. The campaign was enlivened by a controversial party oath requiring state Democrats to stick with the national party. If the oath is retained, candidates running for presidential elector in 1960 must pledge in advance to support the Democratic presidential ticket.

Ceylon Workers Return to Work

Colombo, Ceylon — Thirty-seven thousand government employees who had been on strike for 13 days returned to work Monday. But first they met and denounced their communist-influenced union leaders, accusing them of betrayal and demanded they resign.

The strike crippled postal deliveries and curtailed train services. The government agreed to open negotiations at once on the demands for higher rent allowances, steps to cut living costs and the firing of executives opposed by the union as reactionary.

The union rank and file at the meeting today charged their leaders had achieved nothing by the strike. Finally they agreed to return to work after Premier Solomon Bandaranaike promised there would be no victimization and strikers would be paid for the days they were out.

State Bar's Grievance Committee Recommends Catlin's Reinstatement

Manitowoc — The grievance committee of District 7 of the State Bar of Wisconsin has recommended reinstatement of Mark Catlin, Jr., of Appleton, as an attorney.

Frank A. Murphy, committee chairman, sent the report on Catlin to Philip Haberman, executive director of the state bar. It will be referred to the bar's board of governors for a final report to the Wisconsin Supreme court.

Catlin, former Republican speaker of the state assembly, was suspended from law practice for six months for allegedly attempting to use his political influence in pardon and parole matters.

Murphy said the grievance committee's investigation established that Catlin had obeyed the court's mandate.

Planned Probe Of Insurance To Be Full Scale

Investigator Tells Management Group Of Committee's Plans

New York — A senate investigator said today the forthcoming probe of the insurance industry will be broad scale, including a look at the role big insurance companies play as money lenders.

Donald P. McHugh, counsel for the senate antitrust and monopoly subcommittee, gave this preview of the investigation in a prepared address to the American Management Association.

Subcommittee aides said this was the first time the scope of what the group plans has been spelled out. The senate has authorized the inquiry but the subcommittee has not yet announced a starting date. Sen. Joseph C. O'Mahoney (D-Wyo.) has been designated to preside at the hearings.

Cost of Insurance

McHugh said the probe will explore deeply into the cost of insurance — both life and other kinds. Other fields to be embraced, he said, will include: Whether state policing agencies are doing the job congress expected of them; Whether the insurance industry "promotes a dynamic free enterprise economy by providing maximum benefits at the lowest cost;" and whether monopoly practices have crept into the insurance system.

In the fire insurance field, for instance, McHugh said, "charges have been made that the rating bureaus, with the help of the dominant companies, have attempted to control the industry by throwing road blocks in the way of competition."

Policy Forms

"This subcommittee," he continued, "will attempt to determine whether independence of action in rates and policy forms is permitted."

McHugh said that in passing the 13-year-old McCarran act which set up the federal-state method of policing the insurance industry, congress "made clear it would require the states to 'make a strict accounting of their stewardship.'"

The statute giving the states regulatory and taxing power in the insurance field, he said, was a conditional grant of power, and the subcommittee plans several major areas of inquiry to check on how well it has worked.

Skindivers Succeed in 'Blowing Up' Island

Sham Attack Enacted by Coast Guard, Amphibians as Part of Alert Program

Milwaukee — Skindivers, pitted against coast guardsmen, swam ashore Monday night in a civil defense exercise and succeeded in "blowing up" Jones Island with make believe bombs.

The raid was a sham attack enacted by the coast guard reserve and members of the midwest amphibians as a prelude to "Operation Alert 1958," the nationwide civil defense exercise today and Wednesday.

Both the amphibious attackers and the coast guard claimed success.

The successful frogmen were Charles F. Stanley of Kenosha and Matt Putra of rural Union Grove.

They and 18 other skindivers departed from a yacht club in a power boat, armed with flares.

Near the target

"We got near the target and then started swimming," said Putra. "The water was warmer than the air, but waves made it difficult. It took 20 minutes to get to the pier."

"Then we couldn't find a ladder, so we had to scale the wall of the pier. After we got the flares lit, we lit out."

"The coast guard boys came out in force when they saw those flares," said Putra. The guards all took aim at us. If this had been for real, I'd have a few holes in my rubber suit."

Pleads Guilty Of Receiving Stolen Goods

State Drops Original Charge of Burglary Against Milwaukeean

Milwaukee — Walter L. Miske, Jr., pleaded guilty Monday to a charge of receiving stolen property in connection with a $68,000 jewelry store robbery Dec. 3.

Miske, 31, operator of a wholesale jewelry firm, originally had been charged with burglary. The amended charge accuses Miske of accepting $52,347 worth of stolen property.

Municipal Court Judge Herbert Steffes said he would take testimony on Miske's plea today. Miske pleaded innocent to the original burglary charge.

About $41,000 worth of jewelry taken from the Majestic Jewelers was recovered from Miske's firm. Miske insisted the loot was left with him by two strangers who said they would return.

Two suitcases taken during the robbery were found burned in an Ozaukee county culvert north of Milwaukee.

Miske has denied repeatedly that he had anything to do with the actual burglary.

Death of Sheboygan Man Brings State Traffic Toll to 219

A 2-car collision in Sheboygan county Monday killed a motorist, raising Wisconsin's 1958 traffic fatality toll to 219, compared with 250 on this date a year ago.

Helmuth Koehn, 61, president of the Commercial Engraving company, Sheboygan, was injured fatally Monday in the collision of his auto and another car at an intersection on Highway 32 north of Gibbsville. Authorities said he died of internal injuries en route to a Sheboygan hospital. The other driver was unhurt.

Sit-Down Brigade in Protest Against Dump

Detroit — Irked at the ripe smell coming from a smoldering trash heap at a nearby refuse dump, housewives in suburban Warren took what a spokesman called "direct action" yesterday.

The women, about a dozen in all, set up a row of chairs across the entrance to the dump and sat through the day, unmoved by police entreaties and the coining of would-be dump users.

A group leader said previous efforts to control fires at the dump had failed and when one kept burning for four days in a row she and her neighbors decided "to do something about it."

No Bids Received on Badger Ordnance

Chicago — The Army Corps of Engineers said Monday it received no bids on its offer to lease portions of the Badger Ordnance works near Baraboo, to private industry.

Monday was the day set for opening bids.

A corps spokesman said any further action concerning the munitions plant will be up to the department of the army in Washington.

The Badger Ordnance works presently is on a standby basis. The corps spokesman said Liberty Powder company has the operating contract.

Noted Author, J. B. Cabell, Dies at 79

Richmond, Va. — James Branch Cabell, a quiet Virginia aristocrat who became a stormy petrel of American letters with his sophisticated novels of disillusion and escape, died here last night at 79.

A cerebral hemorrhage suffered Sunday afternoon claimed the life of the author of "Jurgin" after a writing career that had spanned more than a half century.

D. H. Mosely called Cabell's ironic novels, preoccupied with sex, "the tiresome swan song of that generation which had as its primary purpose in writing the blasting of tradition and the exhibition of its own shallow cleverness."

Yet his admirers were legion. At the time of his greatest popularity, in the 1920s, he was to Benjamin de Casseres "the Watteau of ironists, the Debussy of prose, the Spinoza of word-magic the Prometheus of American renaissance."

In all, Cabell wrote 32 books. His last was an autobiography, "As I Remember It," published in 1955.

Cabell's first novel, "The Line of Love," was published in 1905 when he was 26. But he did not gain a following until "Jurgin" was published in 1919 and the New York Vice society tried unsuccessfully to censor it.

His other best known works of fiction were "Beyond Life," also published in 1919, and "The Silver Stallion" (1926).

Roundup of Recommendations

Committee Takes No Action on Plan to Change Utility Policy

The street and sanitation committee Monday declined to take action on Mrs. Dorothy Stillings' proposal to require resurfacing of all streets broken up for utility work.

Annually, councilmen discuss what can be done about the old problem. Last year, a new policy evolved whereby the utility companies furnish the city with lists of streets where openings were made. Repair work was done by the city's contractors and costs were billed to the utilities.

Other Actions

But the repair work includes only replacement of the street surface where it is broken. Committee members are in doubt, but they suspect Mrs. Stillings wants a complete resurfacing job. This, they indicated, would be too much to ask.

Other committee actions:

Director of Public Works Edwin J. Duszynski was ordered to find out if Wisconsin Michigan Power company has easements for power poles on a 7-foot, 5-inch-wide strip which the city is considering giving property owners off S. Outagamie street.

Mr. and Mrs. Edward Kies. Roy Schmidt, Norman Kneip, Marie Ginnow, Willard Foelker and Walter Ohde are seeking the land. The strip is midway between W. Eighth and W. Lawrence streets west of S. Outagamie. Joseph Heimmerman, Norman Puls and Clement Jourdain, other property owners, are said to be opposed.

Duszynski also was ordered to suggest changes in the College-to-Candee high level bridge plans to the state.

The city is asking for ownership of all electrical equipment on the bridge, that conduit be installed underground instead of in cable under the bridge and that luminaries like those on College avenue be installed to permit easier cleaning and repairing.

Hold Proxmire Letter

The committee agreed to furnish the federal government with a parking area at the dead end of E. John street at the government locks after the new bridge is built. The order the street department to parking is needed for lock-tenders, the government said.

Sen. William Proxmire's request for information about Rankin street, south of E. Wisconsin avenue, with rubbish projects was held. It also is being collected on Wednesday by city considered by the board of crews. The rubbish will be kept public works which it was covered with dirt.

The property owner at the sion to hire part-time summer help for his office and the street department and to gather informal bids for removal of tree stumps on S. Telulah avenue between E. Fremont and E. Calumet streets. S. Telulah trees were removed recently in preparation for its widening and surfacing.

Installation of a gas main by Wisconsin Michigan on E. Frances street from 119 feet west of N. Racine street west 373 feet was approved.

Purchase of $870.48 in parts to repair a tractor used at the sanitary fill site was authorized. The parts will be purchased from Brebner Machinery company, Green Bay.

A quit claim deed for three feet on W. Grant street between N. Bennett and N. Summit streets was accepted from Lester Plutz. The concession gives the city a larger street right-of-way.

Attend Meetings

An easement from St. Elizabeth hospital for a 15-foot-wide strip to be used to place storm sewers in the new Ramlen subdivision was accepted. It requires the city to repave the part of the hospital's parking lot that is disrupted and to reseed grass.

Duszynski was instructed to buy 5,000 special assessment forms from Progress Printing company for $53. It was the low informal bid. Roemer Printing quoted $60 for the same amount of forms.

Authorization was recommended for the board of public works, street commissioner, sanitation commissioner and the committee itself to attend the state highway commission's annual summer road school at Marinette June 10 through 12.

Duszynski and City Clerk Elden Broehm were recommended to attend a special school on assessments at Wauwatosa May 15 and 16.

Court Reverses Winnebago Adoption Ruling

caseworker on the pretext of going for a ride, testimony before the lower court stated. An earlier attempt to remove the child failed when the child locked herself in a room.

Disallowed Objections

The Winnebago judge ruled that none of the state's objections to the adoption were founded on good reasons and must be disallowed. The state, after removing the child, granted consent to a younger couple for adoption.

The county judge reprimanded the state department for not following its policy of observing a child in a home for six months before consenting to adoption.

The Supreme court referring to the ruling the state's action was arbitrary and capricious declared, "The finding is not warranted by evidence and is based on a misinterpretation of the statutes." Disagreement with the reasons advanced by the state department as guardian, even if supported by evidence, is not alone enough to justify waiver of the guardian's consent, it continued.

In granting or refusing adoptions, the court said, the state department of public welfare must consider what is the best in the interest of the child, not just whether it will be a good home.

The evidence in this case is interests, the court agreed.

Man Charged With Morals Offense Unable To Post Bond

A 48-year-old route 1, Bear Creek, man was ordered held in the county jail today after he was unable to post $1,000 bond on a morals charge.

Martin McGlin told Judge Oscar J. Schmieghe he wanted a lawyer before he entered a plea. Judge Schmieghe said he would appoint an attorney and that McGlin would have to pay as much as he could toward the fees.

Preliminary hearing was set for next Monday.

Receives Probation For Selling Tools

Gordon Gosse, 37, formerly of 111 E. Franklin street, pleaded guilty of selling tools belonging to his father-in-law and was sentenced to 6 months in county jail when he appeared this morning in municipal court.

Judge Oscar J. Schmieghe stayed the sentence and placed Gosse on two years probation. He also ordered Gosse to make restitution. Gosse will remain in jail until he gets a job.

Attend Conference

Appleton Rotary club delegates attended a district conference in Houghton, Mich., Saturday through Monday. Dr. Edward Zeiss, club president, reports.

abundant to uphold the state department's decision that adoption by the Westphals would not be to the child's best interests, the court agreed.

1 Youth Fined, 2 on Probation After Beer Party

Three teenage youths pleaded guilty of giving beer to minors when they appeared this morning in municipal court. Two of them were placed on probation for one year and the third paid a $40 fine.

The youths, all 18, are David Lutz, 667 Ridge lane, William Eastman, 1027 S. Walden avenue, and Dennis Tiede, 1715 S. Jefferson street.

When given their choice of $40 fines, a year of probation or 20 days in jail, only Lutz chose to pay the fine.

They were arrested Friday night by Appleton police in one of the youth's homes. Police said the three boys had bought a quarter of barrel of beer with contributions from others and there were minors at the party.

Stroke Victim May Have New Attack in 2 Years

Four-Out-of-Five Chance for Second Illness Within Four Years of First

Atlantic City, N. J. — The average person who survives his first stroke can expect to suffer another within four years of the first, Dr. Irving S. Wright told the American College of Physicians. Strokes—like the kind suffered by President Eisenhower—are the result of a cutoff in the supply of blood to the brain, starving some brain cells from lack of nourishment. Other strokes—such as the fatal one that struck President Franklin D. Roosevelt—come from the bursting of a blood vessel and the drowning of part of the brain in blood. Doctors now understand that strokes are not isolated accidents causing brain damage, but, instead, a sign of generalized disease. Wright said. They are also aware now of the symptoms that signal the oncoming of major strokes. Before such symptoms—like little strokes—may have been mistaken for something else or pass unheeded. Much progress has been made in just the past four years, said Wright. The Cornell university researcher said that many studies were now focusing on cerebral strokes. They are signs of hardening of the arteries, high blood pressure or disturbance of the blood's ability to clot, and as such are important to many medical specialties. But before forming theories, U. S. doctors should take a careful look at some current research, he said. He mentioned specifically some studies of primitive na-

research to prove it to their own satisfaction. He cited studies in which rabbits were fed cholesterol. Some of the rabbits were given either excitement drugs or vitamin D. These developed hardening arteries. Other rabbits, receiving equal amounts of cholesterol, received depressants or vitamin C. They remained normal. These studies, performed by Dr. Alexander Myasnikov, scientist of the Moscow

Civil Defense Forces Set for Mock Attack

Test U. S. Skills At Coping With 'The Real Thing'

Battle Creek, Mich.—The nation's civil defense forces, nearly half a million strong, stood poised today for a mock enemy air and sea attack that will test their skills at coping with the real thing.

Imaginary bombers in uncounted numbers were ready to take off from overseas air fields in a nuclear attack on key industrial and defense centers in the United States and its territories.

Enemy submarines awaited orders to hurl intermediate range missiles at undisclosed points off the Atlantic and Pacific coasts.

Operation Alert

Professional and volunteer civil defense workers on the national, state and local levels were to take part in the fifth annual national training exercise scheduled to begin today and end tomorrow night. It's called "operation alert, 1958."

Since it's chiefly a "paper test," the general public in most states will learn of it only through newspapers and radio and television broadcasts. In some states, including New York, New Jersey and Connecticut orders were out for the general public to take cover with the sounding of alarm sirens.

Civil defense workers were alerted everywhere to react as they would under actual attack.

Only Michigan and Indiana will not participate, civil defense officials here said. Both states have special plans for this week and will conduct separate exercises later.

FEDA Headquarters

The show is run in large part from federal civil defense administration headquarters here. Leo A. Hoegh, FEDA administrator and former Iowa governor, remained at his headquarters in Washington, D.C.

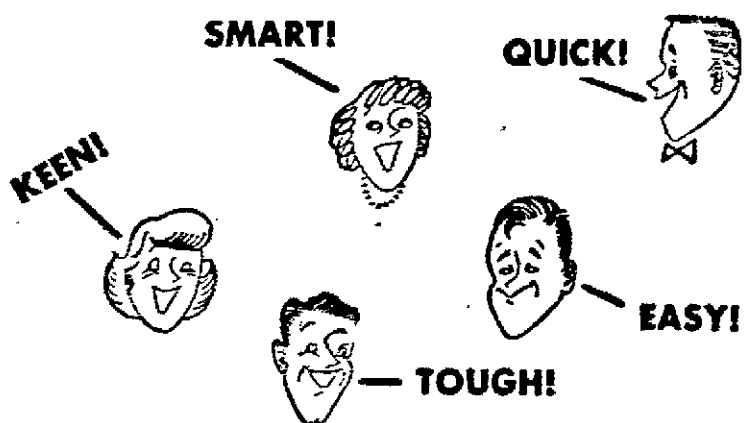

From the 16th story building that once was Percy Jones Veterans' hospital, civil defense centers throughout the country are alerted of an impending attack within two minutes after word of approaching enemy aircraft is flashed into the FEDA nerve center.

GOP Scoffs at Forecast Ike Will Quit Job

Butler's Prediction Undiluted Nonsense, Chairman Declares

Washington —P— Republicans dismissed today as merely speculation a prediction by Democratic National Chairman Paul M. Butler that President Eisenhower will resign before his term ends.

Republican National Chairman Meade Alcorn called it "undiluted nonsense."

Butler said on a recorded radio program last night he would venture to guess that Eisenhower will turn his office over to Vice President Nixon because the president will decide "he feels physically unable to continue to discharge the responsibilities and duties" of the job.

No Sign Of It

If there is any idea of this kind on Eisenhower's mind, Sen. William Knowland (R-Calif.) said he hasn't seen any sign of it. Knowland confers with Eisenhower weekly and sometimes oftener.

"The president shows every signs of vigor and he certainly is on the job on a full time basis," Knowland said. "He certainly doesn't give anyone the impression that he is even remotely entertaining the idea of resigning."

At the White House, Mrs. Anne Wheaton, associate press secretary, said there would be no comment.

Speaks For Himself

"Mr. Butler speaks for himself and no one else," she said.

Butler himself was asked during the program whether he based his forecast on some actual knowledge or on gossip.

"I would say that this is something that is very hard, very difficult to prove," he replied. "But certainly there has been so much talk and conversation about it in official circles, and particularly among the Washington press corps, that it would appear that there is some basis for it."

Eisenhower told his news conference last week that when he was reelected, "I took on something that I think is a duty, and I am going to perform that duty as long as I think I am capable of doing it."

Alcorn referred to Eisenhower's comment, given, he said, "in a characteristically forthright and unqualified manner," and added in a statement:

"The nation, therefore, is confronted with the necessity of choosing between the president's unqualified denial and Mr. Butler's ridiculous speculation."

Butler volunteered his forecast after saying he did not interpret as either helping or hurting Nixon Eisenhower's news conference remark that he has no responsibility for grooming a successor. Butler continued:

"But I have a feeling myself that . . . all of this talk and conversation and gossip here in Washington about some deal having been made by the president and the vice president with respect to a possible resignation of Mr. Eisenhower after the 1958 elections indicates that where there is so much smoke there must be some fire, or at least the smoldering embers of some fire."

Butler went on to say he would guess that prior to the 1960 conventions "Mr. Nixon will be occupying the White House as president of the United States" by Eisenhower's voluntary action in resigning.

Reds Ask Labor Party to Help Halt German Arms

London —P— The Soviet communist party has appealed to the British labor party to help it prevent the nuclear armament of the new West German forces.

The appeal by the central committee of the Soviet communist party said that by arming the Bundeswehr with atomic weapons, the west was playing "with fire and encouraging the revenge-seeking growth."

The statement was quoted by Moscow radio.

The letter to the labor party was "deliberately creating an atmosphere of war hysteria and making every effort to revive German militarism."

It also called on the labor party to use its influence to put an end to nuclear tests and the arms race, to abolish the cold war and to ensure co-operation in international relations.

The laborites along with the rest of west Europe's democratic socialists have rejected any cooperation with the communist parties. The letter said the Soviet party is "sure the labor party will revise its attitude toward the question of co-operation between our parties and will make a worthy contribution in uniting all forces working for peace, irrespective of ideological differences."

Says Ike's Plan Does Not Mean Blank Check

He said a third method might be to appropriate funds by major categories, for example identifying the programs and activities carried out by the army, navy and air force but allowing re-programming authority within each appropriation.

Some committeemen were sharpening pruning shears for the corps of assistant secretaries in the Pentagon.

With what he called a much increased work load, McNeill said the count is 2,485 today.

"I believe we would all agree that the secretary of defense should never be in a position of having to rubber stamp every proposal brought to him, simply because he lacks the staff required adequately to examine and analyze the facts," McNeill said.

McNeill outlined three devices that might be used singly or in combination in uniting all forces working for peace, irrespective of ideological differences.

Foreign Minister Aquilino Boyd said the Russians were refused entrance yesterday because Panama "considers that communist propaganda is harmful and contrary to the democratic system of government."

The visa applications were made through the Panamanian ships in the selected reserve embassy in Buenos Aires. Panama does not have diplomatic relations with Russia.

Young Arsonist to Go to Institution For Observation

Elmwood —P— A 9-year-old boy was ordered to the State Diagnostic center Monday after authorities said he admitted setting five fires, one of which critically injured a volunteer fireman Sunday.

Deputy State Fire Marshal William Rohan said the Elmwood boy admitted setting five fires in his hometown within one week, three of them on Sunday.

Rohan said the boy could not give a reason for his actions. The boy's case was considered Monday in Pierce County Juvenile court at Ellsworth and he was sent to the Madison institution for observation and diagnosis.

Communists Try To Exploit Race Troubles in U. S.

Secret Testimony by FBI Director Raises Infiltration Question

BY DAVID LAWRENCE

Washington — Secret testimony, just made public, reveals that the communists are intensively engaged in an effort to exploit interracial difficulties in the United States.

A few days ago this correspondent raised the question whether the bombings of Negro schools and Jewish synagogues in the south were part of a communist plot to inflame public opinion and cause intense friction among the people of this country. The Louisville bombing in which communists were implicated was cited as a case in point.

In this connection the words of J. Edgar Hoover, director of the Federal Bureau of Investigation, uttered in executive session before a subcommittee of the house appropriations committee in January but just released, take on special significance. He said:

"The Negro situation is also being exploited fully and continuously by communists on a national scale. Current programs include intensified attempt to infiltrate Negro mass organizations. The communist party's objectives are not to aid the Negroes—but are designed to take advantage of all controversial issues on the racial question so as to create unrest, dissension, and confusion in the minds of the American people."

Many Lulled
Many persons have been lulled into the belief that the communist menace in America is either non-existent or insignificant. This impression has been fostered in part by the vicious attacks that have been made on the government's efforts to ferret out security risks and to uncover communist espionage.

The FBI uses undercover agents, who become members of the communist cells and report on what actually is going on. When FBI director Hoover speaks, he is talking from a knowledge of what the undercover agents report. He said to the house committee:

"We now have approximately 150 known, or suspected, communist-front and communist-infiltrated organizations under investigation Our investigators have clearly shown that the communist party, U.S.A., is a hard core of conspiratorial reds unaffected by party differences and controlled by the heavy hand of Moscow"

"Efforts of the bona fide party membership have been complemented by an intensified program of infiltrating mass organizations. To disguise its programs as the offerings of legitimate organizations and to divorce its activities from the stigma of open identification with communism, the party has established many 'front' groups and continuously strives to infiltrate unsuspecting, well-respected organizations.

Since front groups are used to dupe loyal citizens in supporting and promoting campaigns which are designed to help the communist party attain its goals, they constitute one of the most important phases of communist activity in the United States."

Many observers think that, because the communist party membership is small, it isn't dangerous. To this the FBI director answers:

Numerical Strength
"I cannot emphasize too strongly that the numerical strength of the communist party means nothing"

"The influence of the communist conspiracy reaches into almost every walk of life. To gauge its effect, we need only to note the wide-spread clamor which is raised whenever our government attempts to deal firmly in self-defense against the subversive threat."

One of the cleverest pieces of propaganda effort is the artificially stimulated furor about "fall-out" and "nuclear tests." The FBI has not made any comment on it. Some of those active in making protests are sincere and loyal. Some are apparently duped by clever propagandists.

Chairman Comments
It so happens that last Sunday on the program, "Face the Nation," Lewis Strauss, chairman of the Atomic Energy commission, did make a comment on the propaganda about nuclear tests. He said that "at the bottom of the disturbance there is a kernel of very intelligent, deliberate propaganda," and that "a great deal of money is being spent on it" such as, for instance, in nationwide mailings of anti-test "news releases."

Dr. Robert Newell, professor emeritus of radiology at Stanford university, now a consultant in the navy's radiological laboratory in San Francisco, said a few days ago that it would take the explosion of a thousand bombs to double the present world level of "carbon 14" in the atmosphere and in the ocean "and it would still not be detectable in a hereditary way."

But the critics of the tests had already gotten considerable publicity with a variety of statements, couched in the technical phrases of science, predicting dire results to the human race from nuclear materials. Such efforts to prevent America from continuing needed tests of nuclear materials are gaining ground because the public cannot tell who are the loyal, sincerely convinced scientists and who are the phony ones trying to help the communist cause. It's just the core of conspiratorial reds unaffected by party differences and controlled by the heavy hand of Moscow

Bluff Called

The Khrushchev regime made one of its most serious tactical errors when it used an American newspaper article as the basis for a charge that the Strategic Air Command is endangering the peace by sending bombers armed with H-bombs over the Arctic. This was patently a propaganda move designed to put the United States on the defensive before the bar of world opinion.

But the Soviet leaders apparently forgot that President Eisenhower recently had offered to open up the Arctic to an aerial inspection system similar to that which he first proposed at the Geneva summit meeting for the air spaces over Russia and the U. S. Perhaps Moscow's propaganda ministry does not have very good liaison with the foreign office. At any rate this Russian accusation gave Mr. Eisenhower an opportunity to lash back by pointing to his previous offer which, if accepted by the Russians, obviously would eliminate the danger of some errant bomber in the Arctic unintentionally touching off a war.

Thus the Russians suddenly found themselves rocked back on their heels, and they became the ones on the defensive. And for once our government followed up its advantage, by insisting on an immediate Security Council vote on the president's proposal. The Soviet government could do nothing but instruct its delegate to cast another veto, and thus the USSR once again has been held up before the world as the only great power that refuses to consider any practical plan to eliminate the danger of nuclear war.

Secy. of State Dulles then put the knife a little deeper into the wound with these words:

At the choice of the Soviet Union, the fears and risk continue. They continue for one reason alone, and that is because the Soviet Union rejects international inspection against surprise attack.

The significance of that is frightening. The result is tragic. It means that at the will and choice of the Soviet Union we shall have to go on living on the edge of an awful abyss from which we could so readily be rescued if only the Soviet Union did not insist upon retaining for itself the possibility of massive surprise attack.

Our government must, of course, continue to make proposals of this sort: we must continue to "negotiate" with the communist dictators on the one chance in a thousand ("million?") that some way might be found to force or persuade them to give up this "possibility of massive surprise attack." We must continue to do these things because we are a civilized nation dedicated to the ideal of world peace. But surely there is no longer any reason why we should kid ourselves that such an agreement is at all likely to come about; why intelligent, educated, well-meaning Americans should continue to talk about abandoning nuclear tests and other steps that would constitute inspired world leadership if our antagonists also were civilized men desiring peace, but which would constitute folly of the highest order under present circumstances.

One-Third of the Farmers

The most recent bulletin of the state-federal crop reporting service at Madison shows us that the average production of Wisconsin milk cows rose again last year—to about 7,600 pounds per individual. That is encouraging. Gradually the level of production is being lifted, showing that the agricultural community is putting into practice the lessons of science and technology for the milk farm.

The figure means a good deal more, however. The significant part of the statistic is that this is an average. To the good farmer—the man who really knows his business and applies all that he knows to the job of producing milk for a living—that production figure is a pathetic one, indeed. The good farmer can extract up to 15,000 pounds of milk from one animal. There are confident predictions among some of the progressive agriculturists of this state that the average attainable by the farmers of Wisconsin is 12,000 pounds.

These are the considerations that are inextricably related to the national argument about farm policy, and especially government subsidy policy with respect to Wisconsin milk.

We are informed that one-third of the farmers now producing in Wisconsin exceed that state average.

Owners of dairy herds representing one-third of the total production are working below that average. It is these farmers who are at the root of the controversy about farm price supports.

This is a vast differential in efficiency. We can imagine no other economic enterprise in which such a variant would be permitted—under the laws of the free economy and the principles of business competition within which we have been nurtured. Left alone, these inefficient producers would go under, just as they go under in any other economic line in this country.

The good farmer, practicing the best of modern knowledge of breeding and feeding and livestock care, knowing and practicing the latest discoveries in agronomy, financed efficiently, working good soil, is outdistancing the average by such lengths as to be suggestive to even the most casual voter who listens to the arguments about national support for milk prices.

The issue, actually, is one of subsidizing the poor competitor, the inefficient operator, the man who probably has no business in dairying, whatever his talents might be. How long does the American taxpayer want to do this? That is the issue in farm policy in America as it pertains to such a perishable commodity as milk, all partisan and vote considerations aside.

Potato Growers and Consumers

Within the next six weeks Wisconsin potato growers and handlers will determine by referendum whether a marketing order providing for compulsory inspection, certification and grade labeling of potatoes shall become effective.

The order was developed under the Wisconsin Marketing act and is supported by the signatures of more than 100 producers and handlers. If adopted, the order will place severe restrictions on the potato growers in the marketing of their product. Since restrictions are always resented and resisted, considerable opposition to the order may be expected.

The state department of agriculture has held four hearings on the order during the past month. The hearings brought out the fact that there are serious marketing problems, but there is no agreement among the potato men on the solution of their problems.

That being the case it seems unlikely that they will agree to try the marketing order. This is made even more unlikely since two-thirds of the voters must approve the measure, and they must represent a minimum of 51 per cent of the state's total potato production before the order can become effective. Such safeguards are, of course, appropriate for the adoption of so important a change in the conduct of this business. If the order should be adopted it will mean that it has the support of a solid majority and the enforcement problems should therefore be reduced.

The problem is in the hands of the producers and handlers which is as it should be. However, the most casual potato consumer knows from his experiences in the grocery store that the present Wisconsin potato labels are not to be depended upon. For that reason many customers in the grocery stores turn to Idaho potatoes although they would prefer Wisconsin potatoes if they could be sure of what they were buying. This single fact is a matter of tremendous importance in the potato markets over the years.

Raps Merchants Who Take Up Parking Spaces

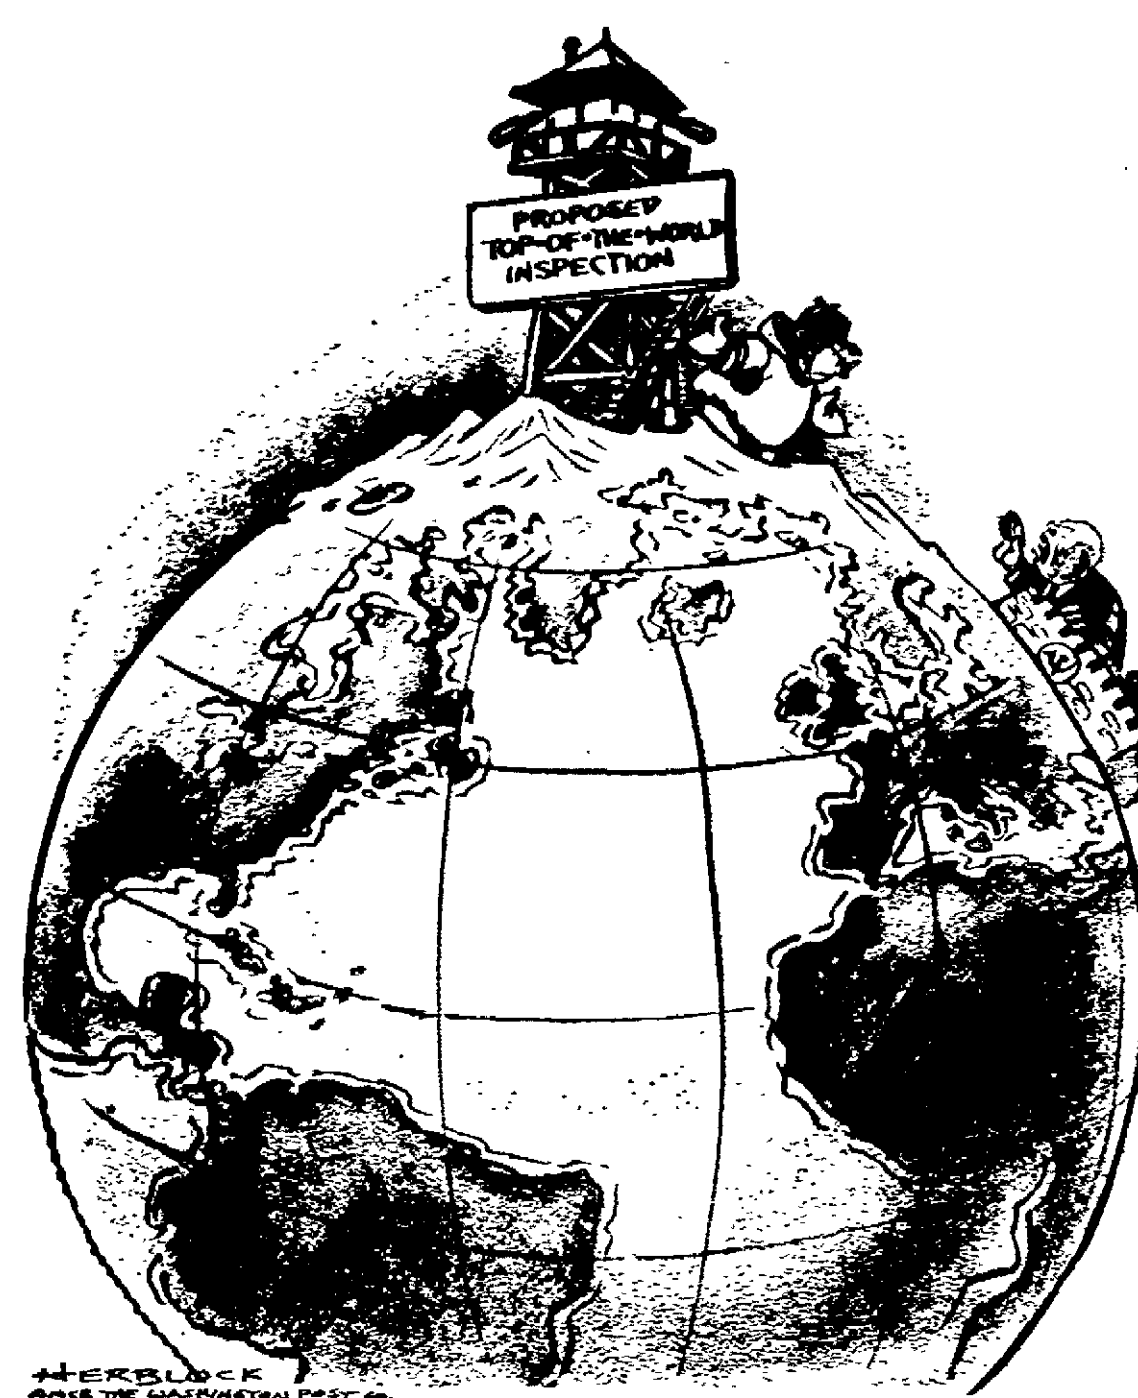

Editor, Post-Crescent:
Your promotion of "Auto Buy Now" and the "Buy Your Appliances Now" campaign clearly demonstrates that you are alert to the present economic situation. Together with President Eisenhower's recommendation to the people to "Buy What They Need Now," although it should have said "At Retail," it is evident that the public policy of the administration is to encourage the use of money to keep the economy moving. It is a good idea to divert some of the ever-increasing money savings into productive channels to hold and create jobs.

Now to show our buying public that we, as business people, are not only asking but also willing to do our share, let us do something about the parking problem. Every time a business or professional man and employee parks his car in a downtown street or adjacent parking lot at peak periods, he drives a potential customer out of town or makes him defer his purchases. This state of affairs threatens the economic security of downtown Appleton. It is like inviting a guest to your home and not having a chair upon which he could sit.

Some time ago Appleton had a "defense alert" demonstration to clear the streets of Appleton of cars in the shortest possible time. To the writer the present parking situation is just as important. If your paper could promote a walk-to-work ride the bus or park your car out of the business district, as my employer does to show our customers that we are sincere and realistic in our efforts to get him to "Buy Now", and that we, as business people, are willing to make sacrifices for the good of our community, it would help to remedy this parking situation. A good time to try out this suggestion would be during the coming "Buy Your Appliances Now" promotion.

'Nah — Wrong Kind of Summit'

These Days

With All the Talking, We Still Don't Know What Causes Depressions

BY GEORGE SOKOLSKY

(Copyright, 1958)

Vice President Richard Nixon, in a recent address, said this:

"A normal economic system, just like a normal human body, does not and should not run at full speed all the time. There are times when it must slow down so that needed changes can be made and bad habits and faulty practices corrected. If these needed changes are made, the system will be stronger at the end of the corrective period than before it began."

This is probably true, but it is not an answer to any question. When the economy slows down, people are out of work. That means reduced income for the family; it means reduced purchases; it means reduced manufactures and unless the situation is handled rapidly and drastically it can mean a depression of varying depth.

Since 1929, one of the most discussed subjects in all capitalistic countries has been how to level out the peaks and valleys of production and employment. Both management and the labor unions have been studying this problem, as well as economists and sociologists in the universities. What has generally been regarded as essential in western thinking has been that prosperity should not be dependent upon war or upon the preparation for war. Such a prosperity is profligate, inflationary and harmful in its social implications.

Problems Not Solved
It must be admitted that the United States has not solved the problem of peaks and valleys in the economy. The 1938 recession, as it is called, presents an unfortunate picture of unemployment and of a buyer's avoidance of postponable commodities. The situation will not readily be explained away. Nor is it sound public relations for a government to say how deep a depression will or will not be. Nobody can prognosticate what is likely to happen unless steps are taken to alter existing conditions. The most immediate step is a reduction in income taxes. Such measures as a heavy public works program may show some beneficial results in 1960 or 1961; they will not produce much in 1958 or 1959.

This is a problem not in politics or semantics but in human relations. Great depressions have occurred in both Democratic and Republican administrations and there have been some lesser depressions during the administrations of either party.

The wheel of the economy turns faster or slower with little regard to politics or to whims of politicians.

Why Does Buying Stop?
In 1957, they bought fewer automobiles and conditions in that industry became depressed. In 1958, the public continued to postpone buying automobiles. Why? Why at that particular moment?

Looking Backward
Jail Cells Called County Disgrace

79 YEARS AGO
Quoted from the Appleton Crescent for the week of May 10, 1879.

Mr. Theodore D. Kanouse, secretary of the State Board of Charities and Reform, visited our county jail last week, and, while commending Sheriff Brill for his excellent management, insisted that the present damp and unventilated conditions of the cells, together with the disgusting conveniences for the necessities of the prisoners was a disgrace to the county and must be changed to a more humanitarian arrangement.

Free Primary Annoying Democratic Followers

BY JOHN WYNGAARD

Madison—Gleanings from a political beat:
A state labor news organ relates that some laborites are worried about the prospect there may be two, three or even more candidates for the Democratic nomination for the attorney generalship this year. Shades of the liberals' adherence to the idea of popular nominations in a free primary!

Wyngaard

The state legislative library, in a study of the office of speaker of the assembly and its history in Wisconsin, discovered that Vernon W. Thomson when he was a legislator held the office longer than any other Wisconsin speaker since Ninian E. Whitesides of LaFayette county became the first to hold it in 1848.

Thomson was speaker three times. Speaker Robert Marotz, the presiding officer of the present assembly, may also note for what it is worth to him that for all of its prestige and power, the speaker's office according to the Wisconsin historical record is not a particularly effective avenue to higher place.

The legislators who are resisting the idea of streamlining procedure in order to save time and shorten sessions generally are older men who have fewer business or professional occupations at home.

Conversely, those who are pushing for change—apparently in vain—are the younger men who have jobs at home. It is a decided annoyance for a young legislator to come to Madison, perhaps at a distance of 200 miles, and spend the first two months in idleness, while his business pines at home, and the legislative machinery is organized in leisurely fashion for later production.

Notes from representative legislators all over the state tell the same story: incumbents expect their competition to be more numerous and spirited, in large part because of the higher salaries and expense allowances authorized by the 1957 legislature to take effect when the new legislature is seated next January.

Capitol wits are making sport of the complaint against a Wisconsin county sheriff, in a removal petition filed with the governor's office, that he has fallen asleep on duty. Such a standard of performance in public life, they claim, might depopulate the government of America.

Sen. Jess Miller of Richland Center, one of the most respected of the senior members of the legislature and perhaps its most useful single member, is making a vigorous campaign for re-nomination and reelection in his big south western Wisconsin district. Reapportionment has spread his district vastly; it is now more than 100 miles from east to west.

The retirement of John Jones, the elderly University of Wisconsin regent from Racine, poses a classically difficult patronage problem for Gov. Thomson. Past governors have related that they were always astonished, and frequently fascinated, by the fact that there are usually many times more candidates for a seat on the regents than for any other public place in the state government. The seat pays nothing, but it evidently arouses the craving of many men.

Former Gov. Walter J. Kohler appears to have dropped out of politics completely, only a little more than a year since his departure from the top political office in the state. The three time governor has attended none of the Republican party meetings lately, communicates with political leaders and old political friends rarely.

Can we afford, in pursuit of foreign commitments, to keep our people out of work? Even if it is politically advisable, is it not socially dangerous?

Debtors Need Not Give Up Everything to Meet Obligations

If you are unfortunate enough to find yourself hopelessly in debt, must you give up everything to satisfy your debts? The answer in Wisconsin is definitely no. The state constitution and the statutes recognize that the entire family may be forced to seek public relief. In effect, goods, income, and life insurance would put on the taxpayers the burden of paying the debt. The principal exemptions are actually living there, is exempt to the extent of $5,000. Household items exempt include all wearing apparel, jewelry up to $400 in value, one

The income of the debtor is protected up to a maximum of $120 a month plus $20 for each dependent. Other cash exemptions include war pensions, war bonds up to $200 in value, accident policy payments up to $150 a month, old age and pension assistance payments, social security benefits, unemployment

Book of Snapshots, Clippings Suggested for Mother's Gift

BY CAPPY DICK

With Mother's day here soon, now is the time to compile a scrapbook of snapshots, magazine pictures and written words that tell her story from the time when she was a small child. She'll be delighted with the book when you present it to her.

Use an empty scrapbook, or make one with pages of construction paper and covers of tablet backs. Decorate the covers (Figures 1 and 2) by pasting on pieces of cloth from pages might be entitled "The Wedding" and here you can use lots of pictures and cutouts as well as written words. Information for all of the pages, as well as old pictures, can be obtained by enlisting the help of your grandmothers, aunts, uncles, and dad himself. Some questions you can ask them are these:

"What was mother like when she was a baby?"

"What are the cute things she said and did when she was little?"

"What were some of the most exciting things that happened during her school years?"

"How did dad and mother happen to meet?" Ask this of dad.

"What do you remember about the wedding?"

"What are the most exciting things that happened when we children were very little?" Ask this of mother.

Brain Twisters

BY DON DOUGLAS

High Finance

See how quickly you can figure out this little question in the third and fourth pages of this week's paper. A dress shop sold might be called "Exciting a frock for $24, and by so doing, it made a profit of as many cents as the cost of the material." When the dress was made, the cost of the material was $24. How much did the dress cost?

The answer is $48. The cost of the material was $24, and the cost of the labor was $24. The dress cost $48.

H. Rowan Gaither to Give Up Chairmanship Of Ford Foundation

New York—(AP)—H. Rowan Gaither, Jr., is giving up the chairmanship of the Ford foundation, the world's richest philanthropic organization.

Gaither, 48, said Sunday he will leave the foundation at its annual meeting in December to resume his law practice and other interests in San Francisco. He will continue as a foundation trustee.

His name has been given to the still-secret Gaither report by the security resources panel of President Eisenhower's scientific advisory committee. The report is said to have recommended larger defense spending.

Bull Tries to Butt Way Through Wall

Hamilton, Ohio—(AP)—What would you do if a 1,500-pound bull appeared outside your home and tried to butt its way through a wall of the house?

When it happened Sunday to Carl Gatlin, he ushered his family upstairs and telephoned for help.

And when Deputy Sheriff Howard Cook arrived, the bull shifted its attention to a charge at the newcomer.

Cook stopped the charge, but not the bull. He shot the animal in the head. The bull ran into an adjoining field where it was corralled.

Investigators said the bull had left its pen on a farm about a half mile away, and apparently was not seriously injured by the shot.

Registrations for Summer Classes Gain Momentum
Kaukauna—Registrations for summer art classes are coming in rapidly and parents wishing to enroll their youngsters in the recreation department sponsored program are asked to call Mrs. Roger Belling, instructor, as soon as possible.

Early indications are that all classes will be filled and probably extra sessions needed, according to the instructor. Tentative starting date for the classes is sometime during the second week of June although this might be changed if enrollments are too large.

Younger Class
Several parents have called to ascertain whether instructions could be provided for 5 and 6-year olds. Previously no classes were held for this age group but interest seems to be gaining momentum thus the instructor has tentatively scheduled a class.

She requested parents of students in this age group who have made previous inquiries to contact her if they are still interested and also asked others who might want to enroll youngsters of this age to notify her. The formation of a class will depend entirely on the number of students enrolled.

Plans call for the 5 and 6-year old classes to be smaller in number, shorter in length and more simplified with youngsters working mainly with tempera painting, drawing and paper cutting.

PSC to Study Utility Request For Improvements

Madison—The Wisconsin public service commission said Monday it is studying the proposal of the city of Kaukauna as a public water utility to spend $54,340 on plant improvements, including the installation of a chlorinator.

The commission said in a public notice that it would investigate the application for authority by the city without the usual public hearing.

The city asked for an order permitting the construction of a well, the installation of a pump, chlorinator and piping, and a new building.

The building will be large enough, it was explained, to house an iron removal plant that will be added later to meet complaints from users of automatic washers about rusty water being provided by the city.

The city would borrow the construction funds from the municipal electric utility and repay the amount in about two and one-half years.

'Opportunities at Hand,' Rohlf Tells Apprentices

Learning Doesn't End With Diploma, Kaukauna Businessman Advises Graduates

Menasha — "Now that you have graduated from an apprenticeship, your opportunities are at hand and all you have to do is reach out for them."

That advice was offered to 55 Fox Cities graduating apprentices by Vincent Rohlf, president of the Badger Northland company, Kaukauna. Rohlf spoke on the "Importance of Continued Training" during a graduation dinner at the Neenah-Menasha Elks club Monday night.

"You aren't through learning now that you have received your diplomas," Rohlf maintained. "Actually, you can learn a great deal more and one way to accomplish this is by continuing your studies at vocational schools."

Best Training

Rohlf pointed out the best training he ever experienced was the four years he served as an apprentice from 1937 to 1941. The big difference then, he noted, was he only made 25 cents an hour while he was learning.

He stated he became an apprentice because he couldn't afford to go to college but wanted to advance himself. "I have continued studying ever since I received my diploma," he emphasized.

Russian Apprentice

In Russia a boy will start his apprenticeship when he is 14 years old or younger and by the time he is 17 or 18 he has mastered a trade, said Rohlf, who toured Europe a year ago as a representative of the Young Businessmen of America.

Meet Obstacles With Faith, Pastor Advises

Difficulties May Be Opportunities, Rev. Seidler States

Obstacles are not agreeable companions but if they do turn up they have to be met, the Rev. John Seidler, pastor of St. John Evangelical and Reformed church, contended in his Sunday morning sermon.

"Difficulties often set the stage for opportunities. Danger calls forth courage. Sorrow brings out sympathy. Need produces neighborliness. Suffering develops patience and understanding. Opposition stirs up devotion, faithfulness and sacrifice," he explained.

"Poverty can be, and often is, an evil and a crime of our social systems. Yet it is a fact more effective in spite of, or because of, their tragic experience. To believe that at the center of life there is a provi-

Charles Dickens, who grew up in conditions of poverty and public disgrace. Sickness and pain are not welcome guests, but in spite of them, or because of them, some wonderful contributions have been made to the world."

Proper Attitudes

Even death can be made to serve the highest aims of life if it is met in the proper attitude, the Rev. Mr. Seidler maintained. Men and women have emerged from bereavement with new understanding and sympathy that prompted them to do things for others they never thought they could do, he stated. And by comforting others, they found still greater comfort for themselves, the pastor asserted.

"What life's difficulties do to you depends on how you face them. The manner in which you face them depends, in a large measure, on your faith. For many people, who do not exercise faith, life becomes bitter because of the obstacles that block their ambitions."

"For others, life becomes complete understanding and redeeming love — that makes a world of difference when we are up against it," the pastor concluded.

Hammaraskjold Cites 'Crisis of Trust' in Disarmament Delay

BY WALTER LIPPMANN

At the UN Mr. Hammaraskjold said that the basic reason why no progress is being made on disarmament is that there is a "crisis of trust" from which all mankind is suffering at the present juncture.

It is reflected, he went on to say, "in an unwillingness to take any moves in a positive direction at their face value... because of a fear of being misled."

This surely is the heart of the matter, and we may take it that our Arctic bomber flights, which Hammaraskjold referred to as "the present state of extreme preparedness," reflect an absolute mistrust in the intentions of the

If I read Hammaraskjold's remarks correctly, he thinks that use of its military power in such a way as to risk general war, if the Soviet Union and the United States would make an agreement to set up an Arctic inspection system, this would reflect a state of mind in which other agreements might then be reached. AAUW to Hear Talk On Zoology Project by Fellowship Holder

The Appleton chapter of American Association of University Women will hear Mrs. Patricia Jackson Decoursey, Madison, speak at the general meeting at 7:45 Wednesday evening in the Worcester Art center on the Lawrence campus.

Mrs. Decoursey, holder of the Ellen C. Sabin fellowship awarded by the Wisconsin division of AAUW, is currently working on her Ph. D. in zoology at the University of Wisconsin. Her talk will concern her present studies and will be illustrated with slides.

She received her first experience in scientific research when she was a child at the Northrop Memorial camp, sponsored by Hunter College of New York. Her interest persevered through high school, and as an undergraduate at Cornell University, she majored in zoology.

Returns Home
She returned to her native state, Wisconsin, where she received her M. S. from the University of Wisconsin in 1955. As she worked toward her doctor's degree, she chose as her research problem, the daily activity patterns of small arboreal mammals; and some of these animals' sensory adaptations for this specialized type of life. As an experimental animal for this study, Mrs. Decoursey selected the eastern flying squirrel, which is best suited for this type of research.

She hopes to study the sensory mechanisms which make it possible for it to accomplish astonishing feats of gliding, turning in mid air, and making jumps of 30-150 feet, despite the fact that the flying squirrel is a strictly nocturnal animal.

Mrs. Decoursey

Very little study has been done on this type of mammal and there is every probability that this project will be a unique contribution in her field of interest.

The committee for the evening includes Mrs. Charles Krouse, Mrs. Robert Kneiser, Mrs. George Knister, and Mrs. Howard Whitehead.

Dark Age Theory on Epilepsy Faulty; 'Marry Him' Says Ann

BY ANN LANDERS

DEAR ANN: I'm a heart-broken girl who needs help immediately. The young man I want to marry has epilepsy. He told me about it several months ago. I was shocked because I've never known anyone with epilepsy and it seemed like a terrible thing. I understand it better now and want to marry him, regardless. We are deeply in love.

Since we plan to announce our engagement next month, he insisted I tell my parents. Mother went completely to pieces. She said our children might be feeble-minded. She warned me I'd be miserable if I married a man whose mind might snap suddenly.

My father begged me to give him up. He claims we will always be in financial difficulties because an epileptic who has a fit on the job would be fired and no one would hire him after that. Right now I feel as if I've been hit by a 10-ton truck. Help me.—MOLLY.

DEAR MOLLY: Your parents are fearful because they are not informed. If they knew more about epilepsy they wouldn't be so terrified. Unfortunately, all states do not permit persons with this illness to marry. However, such ignorant and archaic legislation is losing out to an enlightened approach.

Epilepsy, as such, is not inheritable. A tendency toward seizures may "run in a family" but no more so than a tendency toward T.B., cancer or diabetes.

There's no connection between epilepsy and feeble-mindedness. Some of the world's great geniuses were epileptics—Socrates, Julius Caesar, Mozart, Napoleon and Van Gogh, to name a few.

It is true that your fiancé may have trouble holding a job, but not because of his illness—only because some employers are still living in the dark ages. Epileptics don't have a higher accident rate than other workers and their absentee record is no worse. If you love the boy, go ahead and marry him.

DEAR ANN: You are a very smart woman. Your reply to the wife who complained because her husband never talked to her proved it.

I'm considered a "mum" in our house, too. The reason I never talk to my wife is exactly the one you pointed out in your answer.

Several times during the first few years of our marriage I came home and tried to interest my wife in the things that happened at work. Often I'd try to talk about something that I'd read in the papers.

She had a terrible habit of interrupting me in the middle of a sentence with a suggestion for painting the porch furniture or reupholstering the day-enport. After about one thousand such interruptions, I decided to shut up.

I'm considered a good conversationalist everywhere but at home. I haven't tried to make conversation with my wife for almost 10 years. Do you blame me?—

THE QUIET MAN

Dear Quiet Man: How about giving it another shot? Maybe your wife has learned something in the past ten years. It's worth a try.

DEAR ANN: My sister-in-law and I are having an argument. Please settle it.

She was married to my brother several years ago and he passed away. I've always referred to her as my sister-in-law. She has asked me several times to stop it because she claims we're no longer related. She has not remarried, but she has changed her name, legally. I say once a person is a relative, they are a relative forever. Am I right?—WINNIE

Sorry, Winnie, your former sister-in-law is right. A BLOOD relative is related forever—but a relative acquired through marriage loses that status when the bond is broken legally.

More important than the technical or legal aspect, however, is the fact that this woman does not wish to claim you as a relative. Since she's gone so far as to change her name, why do you insist? Why be "prouder of Ireland than Ireland is of you?"

BY DOROTHY ROE

AP Women's Editor
The sack dress may be a headache to husbands, but it has been a lifesaver to retail- ers across the country, a sur- vey of buyers and dress man- ufacturers reveals.
Furthermore, New York man- ufacturers in all price brackets will have few conventional we're selling them like hot collections.

Even the most conservative say the new fall silhouettes will be about 90 per cent some variation of the chemise, the trapeze or the shift.

Men Dislike Chemise
Meanwhile, consumer surveys across the country bring back almost identical replies: most men dislike the chemise to the point of violence. Most women say they don't really like it, but will wear it.

Resistance to the new unfitted styles is stronger in the higher priced lines. As one buyer explained it: "A man doesn't object too much if his wife spends $15 or $20 on a dress he doesn't like. But if the dress is going to cost $200, he hits the roof."

Abe Schrader, manufacturer of medium - priced dresses and costumes, reports: "If it hadn't been for the chemise and trapeze, our spring reorders would have been away off. As it is,

Sitting in the Dark Can Mean Trouble for 'Discriminate' Teen

Editor's Note: The Family Council consists of a judge, a psychiatrist, three clergymen, a newspaper editor, a women's editor and two writers. Each article is a summary of an actual case history. The Council reports on problems that have been dealt with by responsible agencies and counselors.

Mrs. L. R. — We think Lee gets too much.

Lee R. — They have no confidence in me.

Mrs. L. R. — My husband and I are terribly concerned about our 16-year-old daughter, Lee. She is a bright girl and has never been much of a problem until the last year when she became quite popular.

My husband and I suspect her popularity may be due to the fact that she has been doing too much petting. She assures us she knows what she is doing and is quite strict about her limits. But we are disturbed because we have often found her in the dark in the living room or on the porch with different fellows. If we come in they are both very embarrassed.

Lee says we are making her life miserable by nagging and not trusting her. We want to be fair and show our confidence in her, but we can't help worrying.

Lee R. — My parents should appreciate the fact that I am not sneaky and am a lot better than many girls my age, who go off in parked cars and other places with their boy friends.

I don't do that kind of thing, but I don't think there is anything wrong with showing a little affection when you like somebody. I enjoy petting but I have no intention of getting into any serious trouble and that's why I would rather come home than go elsewhere.

My parents are really insulting when they say petting is making me so popular. Don't they think boys can like me for myself? I am considered quite attractive and have a good personality. Lots of boys like me for that. My parents have no right to embarrass me by coming in when I am with a boy.

The Council: These parents will have to tread softly, but firmly. They must avoid driving Lee to carrying out her veiled threat of activity in parked cars and "elsewhere."

The fact that Lee is so conscious of this kind of activity among other teenagers indicates she is not going out with a very wholesome crowd. She needs some direction in finding a group with many lively interests outside of the purely sexual.

It would be a good idea for Mrs. L. R. to have a serious talk with Lee about marriage and her future in general. Lee should be aware that she is being unfair to herself and her boy friends and creating difficulties for her emotional life in marriage.

If Mrs. L. R. finds it hard to discuss these things with her daughter, she should suggest a talk with the family physician, who can give Lee a clear and specific account of the kind of problems she may be making.

Beyond this, Lee is missing the happy experience of real social and mental interchange with the opposite sex. As long as her relationships are dangerously bound up with indiscriminate "affection" in the dark, she will not learn to evaluate character and personality and will not learn the difference between serious liking or love and superficial thrills.

No parent today can act as a constant chaperone, so the teenager must be taught from an early age to be his own chaperone. This can only happen if he sees good reason for proper behavior.

Beauty Right Permanent Promotes Leisure

By Marian Matthews

There are many women who feel a permanent is as necessary to get through summer as a vacation. The right permanent actually promotes your leisure time any season of the year but for the holiday period of sun, sea and sand there's little to equal it.

More than one home permanent has revolutionized the process by introducing the new end papers that eliminate the waving lotion step. Now you can begin your home perm with hair that is clean and damp. You wind it on curlers folding one of the special fabric end papers about each curl—smaller papers at smaller curls at the neckline where hair is usually more difficult to curl. When all the curls are wound all you do is wet hair with warm water and wait 15 minutes for it to neutralize. The water helps activate the ingredients that perform the magic waving process.

When you plan your next home wave, look for the newest development which means not only a good wave but less effort and time. Have your hair in as good condition as possible. For the weeks before you feel you want to do the wave, try some of the warm oil applications before you shampoo hair. This will help soften your hair and remedy a too dry scalp. Brush your hair too to improve its general health and manageability. Set it with lotion as carefully as a professional and if your hair needs the sheen and good grooming of a creme rinse, use one after each shampoo.

Mistook Minister For Justice of Peace, Says Pair

Las Vegas, Nev. — The Dennis Crosbys say they didn't realize a Protestant minister was performing their hurry-up marriage.

They thought they were getting a civil ceremony. Dennis, 23, a Catholic and son of Bing Crosby, said Monday night that his marriage to dancer Pat Sheehan was hastily arranged Sunday night. He explained that his bride had to get back to her show at the Tropicana hotel.

Mistook Clergyman The ceremony was performed in a wedding chapel by the Rev. James A. Herndon, pastor of the Las Vegas church of the Nazarene.

The bride and bridegroom said they were deeply disturbed when they read in newspapers that a Protestant clergyman had officiated. They mistook him for a justice of the peace, they said.

Mrs. Crosby, a 26-year-old divorcee who is the mother of a 6-year-old boy, said she is an Episcopalian.

Hopes for Reconciliation "We feel terrible about it. But what can we do? We're married, very much in love and that's that," the couple said.

At a meeting with reporters later, Crosby said he had hoped that after a civil ceremony he could reconcile the marriage with his church.

"I will see if they will marry us in the Catholic church," he said. "If not, I'll throw up my hands."

Governor Pays Visit To Alternate Capital

State on Civil Defense Alert, Stevens Point Is Headquarters

BY JACK GLASSNER
Four-Crescent Staff Writer

Stevens Point — Gov. Vernon Thomson shortly after noon visited the alternate state capital in Stevens Point.

"Sitting here in this quiet Central State Teachers college library, we are planning the survival of the state's citizens during an atomic attack," Thomson said.

He complimented the various state departments which headquarters here during the national civil defense alert today and Wednesday.

Thomson's visit followed a morning of activity highlighted by a warning that enemy aircraft were approaching from central Canada. About 10:29 this morning, the United States went on alert with enemy aircraft reported two and a half hours away.

Civil defense directors sometime in the next few hours will open envelopes in target cities telling whether they have been struck by nuclear weapons.

Issue Orders

After that, state officials in this alternate state capital will issue orders over teletype, telephone and radio networks for the survival of persons who have evacuated target cities. Included in this are routings along highways, billeting in ar-

Books of Waters New This Week For Children

The waters of the oceans and rivers of the world get scientific treatment in two new books added this week to the children's room of the Appleton public library.

"The Blue Book of Oceans" by Carter and "All About the Great Rivers of the World" by White are among books to be available for circulation Saturday.

Other additions are "Freckle Face" by Anderson, "I Want to Be a Road-Builder" by Greene, "Just the Right Size" by King, "Thank You You're Welcome" by Slobodkin, "The Painted Cave" by Behr, "Trouble After School" by Beim, "Little League Way" by Bishop, "So Hi and the White Horse" by Beaton-Jones, "The Gold Penny" by Blanton, "The Mouse Gray Stallion" by Blue.

The Girl of the North Country" by Howard, "The Legend of Bayou Luce" by Payne, "Arizona," "Arkansas," "Maine," "Utah," all by Bailey, "The Story of Beethoven" by Kaufmann, "The Boys' Second Book of Radio and Electronics" by The Fannie Farmer Junior Cook Book" by Perkins, and "Catherine the Great" by Scherman.

To coordinate orders by state officials, a network of up to 400 radio amateurs, the state patrol radio network and a state forest protection radio network will be used.

Although commercial radio stations are not participating in the alert through Conelrad arrangements do exist so that in the time of an actual emergency, Gov. Thomson could speak over a network of state stations.

The governor limited his activities here today to a tour of the civil defense facilities and to the briefing session by Blume. He made no formal remarks to civil defense coordinators.

Traffic Problem On N. Lawe Sent City Engineers

City engineers Monday were ordered to draw alternate plans for relieving traffic congestion on N. Lawe street at E. Wisconsin avenue.

Aldermen Roy Punter and Donald Mueller called for the study at the last council meeting and asked for a study of whether the roadway should be widened four feet on both sides of the street in the block south of E. Wisconsin.

Alderman Homer Malmstrom, appearing before the committee said he believes widening could be confined to the east side of the street and for only the half block south.

Turning Lanes
Painting of two turning lanes onto the street on the south side of the intersection then would accomplish as much as widening both sides, he said.

One committeeman said the whole street needs widening from E. Wisconsin to E. College avenue. Another suggested a ban on parking on one side of the street.

Should the street be widened, most committeemen said they believe the city should pay all costs not assessed against property owners. The reason they gave is that the street is a primary one, one which benefits the entire traveling public. As it is now, they said it is good enough for abutting property owners. Widening would not benefit abutting property owners.

When engineers study the problem they also should take into account turning radius and vision at the corner, it was said.

Host of Other Projects

Richmond Work Sent to Council for Assessing

The city council Wednesday night will be asked to declare its intent to exercise special assessment privileges in regard to N. Richmond street improvement work this summer.

Street and sanitation committeemen voted to recommend the move Monday. The step is the first in setting charges for the widening and resurfacing work.

Next, if the council approves, will come setting of charges to property owners by the board of public works. Then comes a public hearing before the entire council.

Open Street

Opening of E. Lindbergh street, west from N. Meade street, was ordered despite a protest before the committee by Mr. and Mrs. Robert Sommer, holders of a N. Meade greenhouse business. Two petitions were presented with the request for the work. On one 35 signers were for the opening. On the other 48 signers were against it. The opening was said to be needed to furnish a shorter route to Franklin school for children in the northeast section of the city. An attempt will be made to keep from damaging Sommer's garden.

Curb, gutter, grading, graveling and an asphalt mat will be placed on S. Connell street from W. Prospect avenue to Reid drive. As part of the project the curb and gutter also will be extended between S. Connell and S. Douglas street on the north side of the street.

Ald. Mrs. Dorothy Sullings and C. L. Lockwood appeared to ask for extension of the curb and gutter to include Lockwood's property on Reid drive. Committeemen declined to extend part of the block, voting rather to take the entire block. One other property owner is involved in the extension.

Widen N. Superior?
The request of George Johnson and Earl Wichmann who appeared before the committee to have N. Superior street widened in front of their new furniture store 535 N. Superior street, was ordered despite a protest before the committee by Mr. and Mrs. Robert Sommer, holders of a N. Meade greenhouse business. Supreme Court Upholds Rule Against Church

Open Bible Group Won't be Able to Build, Decision Says

Post-Crescent Madison Bureau

Madison — The Church of the Open Bible, Appleton, won't be able to complete its building in the Hall-Heenan plat because such construction would violate the plat restrictions of the area, the Wisconsin Supreme court ruled today.

The court upheld an injunction issued by Circuit Judge Andrew W. Parnell, who found the proposed church project was in violation of a restrictive covenant limiting building in the area to residential projects only.

The court action was begun by Norman Hall and other property holders in the subdivision.

The church held the covenant was not enforceable because it was vague and ambiguous and contrary to the provisions of the constitution.

Justice John E. Martin wrote for the court that "we cannot see how the language could be made more plain."

Different From Zoning

The supreme court distinguished, as did the trial court, between a covenant prohibiting the erection of a church and a zoning ordinance. An ordinance would be invalid because it is an action of government, the court said, but a covenant is an agreement between individuals. It has been enforced by the courts of the country in many other cases and will continue to be enforced by the courts of Wisconsin, the opinion said.

Judge Martin noted the restrictions had been composed before the church building was begun and were on file with the county register of deeds.

"There is nothing in the record to show that there is any concerted movement in the city of Appleton for the exclusion of churches. Conceding the social value of churches, it is nevertheless true that churches, like other places of assembly, produce noise, congestion and traffic hazards. The exclusion of uses which creates such conditions in an area planned for residential use cannot be said to be against public policy," the court declared.

Key to City

Appleton Couple Carries Greetings to West Berlin

Packed in their luggage as they left for a 60-day tour of Europe Monday, Mr. and Mrs. William C. Sense, 333 N. Center street, carried official greetings from Mayor Clarence Mitchell and a key to the city of Appleton to be presented to the mayor of West Berlin.

The letter introduces Sense and assures citizens of Berlin a hearty welcome should any of them visit Appleton.

Berlin is on the last leg of the Senses' tour. They will visit seven countries during their visit.

The Appleton couple embarks on the Queen Mary Wednesday morning. First stop is Southampton, England. They will tour England for five days before taking a channel steamer to Holland to begin travels on the continent.

Tour of Holland

After a 2-day motor tour of Holland the Senses will go to Belgium, where they will see the Brussels world exposition.

They will tour Germany for three days and then move on to Switzerland for a 5-day visit.

Next stop on the Senses' schedule is Italy. During a 2-week stay they will visit Milan, Venice, Naples, Florence, Genoa and Rome.

From Italy they will motor through the Alps to France for a 9-day visit. Five days will be spent in Paris.

On a side trip from Paris, Mr. and Mrs. Sense will travel to Berlin on June 19 to 21. They hope to present the key and Mitchell's greetings to Mayor Brandt of West Berlin. While in Berlin they will visit the Soviet sector of the city.

They will spend the last four days of their trip in Brussels and Paris and return to the United States aboard the Queen Elizabeth on June 25.

Sixth Graders Begin Study of Chinese

Richmond, Va. — Fifteen sixth graders at Patrick Henry school here are studying the Chinese language on an experimental basis.

After a few lessons the children seem fascinated, says Mrs. Priscilla Humbert, teacher. She is the daughter of a Baptist missionary who lived in China 15 years.

Principal Malcolm U. Pitt, Jr., says the study of Chinese is being offered as a "language experience" rather than as a basic course.

Few Openings

Jobs Will be Scant for Graduates, WSES Says

This year's high school graduates will have a hard time finding jobs, Fred R. Gehrke, manager of the Appleton Wisconsin State Employment Service office, says.

There are few job openings available, Gehrke says, except for those graduates who have commercial training. Graduates with commercial training (typing, shorthand) will not find the job market as competitive as the other graduates.

College students and others seeking part-time summer work also will find job opportunities scant, Gehrke believes.

"As we go further into spring," says Gehrke, "there'll be more demands for workers, but there will be no expansion of industry, except in the construction field."

Small Employer, a Hope

What jobs do become available will come from employers who are replacing the one or two employees who quit or retire. And, the man who has been in the market for some time can be expected to provide big competition with the graduate for the job.

"Right now," Gehrke reports, "We are finding more jobs available with the small employer, the fellow who needs one or two additional full-time people."

Ammunition, Fuel Blasts Set Bid Date Hamper Firefighting

Workshop, Grainery In Maple Creek Destroyed by Blaze

New London—Exploding oil drums, shotgun shells, rifle bullets and a 75-gallon tank of gasoline kept New London and Bear Creek firemen on their toes Monday afternoon when fire destroyed the combined workshop and grainery at the Arthur Schneider home, town of Maple Creek, north-east of Sugar Bush. The loss was estimated at $6,000 by Schneider.

Although the fire was raging out of control before firemen arrived, the fire-fighters were able to save the nearby barn and garage.

A crew of New London firemen arrived first at the scene and ran a line to a nearby creek to feed two hoses. The firemen and volunteers, who were drawn by the dense clouds of black smoke, concentrated first on the barn which was endangered by the intense heat.

Shells Explode

While the firemen were attacking the fire which faced the barn, Schneider's case of shotgun shells and eight boxes of high-powered rifle bullets started exploding together with the drums of oil and gasoline.

A large bottle of oxygen and gas for a gas welding set did not explode, although the fuel flowing through the burned connections helped the fire rage out of control.

Shortly before the firemen arrived there were several explosions which rocked the building and scattered spectators.

The New London fire department was called by a neighbor, who in the excitement reported that the fire was northeast of Bear Creek. When the New London firemen passed through Bear Creek they saw that the smoke was in the southeast and followed the smoke to the fire.

The Bear Creek fire department was called after New London firemen passed through Bear Creek.

Faulty Wiring

Schneider, who was not at home when the fire started, reported that faulty wiring must have been responsible again.

Lost in the fire were seven guns, valued at about $700, a sheet-metal lining confined the pistol, gas and electric welding fire and prevented it from sets, drill press, 800 bushels of spreading to the other building, three tons of pea seed, one ton of corn, a new hammer mill machine, corn planter, fan-started exploding together with the drums of oil and gasoline, seed, $200 worth of lumber a

Covers Highway 41 Grading, Rebuilding Of 45 in Hortonville

Bids for grading a 2.3-mile section in the 4-laning of Highway 41 and for reconstruction of Highway 45 in Hortonville will be opened May 20 at Madison.

L. W. Empey, the state highway commission's district engineer, said both projects are expected to take most of the breaking plow and about $1,000 worth of small hand-tools. A tractor and five puppies were saved from the blaze.

Schneider, who said he has insurance, told firemen that the workshop and granary was more valuable than the barn.

New London firemen stayed at the fire until about 8 o'clock Monday night. They soaked the burning piles of grain to prevent the fire from starting again.

Firemen reported that the sheet-metal lining confined the fire and prevented it from spreading to the other building. The steady wind also blew the smoke and flame between the garage and the house instead of toward the barn.

summer to complete but there will be no detouring of traffic. The Highway 41 section to be graded extends from the north Winnebago county line to Highway 10. At Highway 10, it takes in the grading of the interchanges, but not the intersection. A contract for grading intersection was let earlier.

Make Urban Street

The 2.3-mile Highway 41 section mostly will involve carving space for two additional lanes on the west side of the present roadway.

The Hortonville project involves widening and reconstruction of Main and Appleton streets, a distance of about a mile, into an urban street.

Empey said concrete curbs and gutter will be constructed and a plant mix asphalt mat will be laid from the east limits of Hortonville through the Main street section to the railroad tracks.

The widening process will make the streets 52-feet wide in the business section and either 44 or 48 feet in other places.

Set Up Chamber Industrial Group

Manufacturers' Council to Replace
Present Committee; Firms to Elect

Neenah — A move to strengthen Chamber of Commerce industrial interests was adopted Monday by the organization's board of directors. The proposal would abolish the present committee and replace it with a manufacturers' council executive committee.

The entire manufacturers' council would be made up of industrial firms holding membership in the chamber. The executive committee of this new body would consist of 10 members to be elected to 2-year terms by the more than 50 industrial firms in the chamber.

Objectives of the new proposal were presented to the chamber's directors by Charles Ingles, Marathon division of American Can company, chairman of the 1957-58 industrial committee.

"As the outgrowth of a study in process since the first of the year, our committee concluded," he pointed out, "that formation of a manufacturers' council is a perfectly logical move because it will afford Twin City industries the opportunity to work toward accomplishment of mutual goals and will give industry an official voice in Chamber of Commerce activities."

Under the new arrangement, manufacturers' council presentation on the chamber's board of directors will be parallel to that of the retail division.

Promote and Coordinate

Primary objective of the industry unit will be to promote and coordinate the common interests of industries in the Neenah-Menasha area. The group also will provide a clearing house for exchange of ideas of value to firms engaged in industry and will afford a medium for coordinated efforts in solving mutual problems.

"In addition to shaping programs of interest to industry, the manufacturers' council will be in a position," Ingles explained, "to support activities of benefit to the Neenah-Menasha community as a whole."

Members of the industrial committee that drafted the new proposal are James E. Asmuth, Wisconsin Tissue mills; Hayward S. Biggers, George Banta company; C. E. Cass, Neenah Electrotyping corporation; Thomas C. Catlin, Gilbert Paper company; Paul A. Dodge, Neenah Foundry company; Paul H. Groth, Neenah Paper company; Richard L. Johnson, Menasha Wooden Ware corporation; J. H. Levandoski, John Strange Paper company; Wayne A. Long, Bergstrom Paper company; M. J. Schuler, Kimbly-Clark corporation; and Henry J. Young, Hardwood Products company.

Gerald H. Tritt, Oshkosh, Receives Serious Injuries

Neenah — Gerald H. Tritt, 53, route 5, Oshkosh, miraculously escaped death Monday afternoon when his truck, loaded with six tons of gravel, smashed nearly full speed into a fast-moving Soo Line passenger train two miles west of Neenah.

Tritt apparently was thrown free of the crumbling wreckage by the impact. He was still unconscious today at Theda Clark hospital, with a possible skull fracture and severe head and face cuts.

His condition was listed as not critical at noon today.

Harry Jaquith, 74, Westboro, engineer of the eastbound train, said he saw the truck coming, but could not stop in time. He said he doubts if Tritt saw the train until it was much too late.

Demolished

A. R. Gmeiner, 519 W. Fulton street, Waupaca, a train passenger, said he could tell the way the truck was coming that it would hit the train.

The crash demolished the truck, owned by Courtney and Plummer, Inc., Neenah, caused extensive damage to the rear of the train's engine and tore a door off the mail car. Gravel was spewed everywhere, some of it inside the mail car. Truck parts were scattered 405 feet along the tracks.

Tritt was reported traveling south on County Trunk QQ toward Courtney and Plummer's plant on Highway 41. Skid marks of the truck measured 36 feet, county police said.

The train stopped within 500 feet of the crossing.

In every man's spirit, there is an urge to create, but the product of his creation should be both functional and aesthetic, pointed out the speaker.

The aesthetic part brings polish and culture to life, she said, pointing out art is beauty and beauty is the right order of the home. It is the responsibility of each individual to improve oneself and thereby assist in improving the world, said the superintendent. Creation in the home is the responsibility of the individual, said Sister M. Thomasita.

She called the disharmony and lack of beauty that are sometimes in our surroundings as visual noise. Art puts order into that kind of chaos, she said.

Industrial League Opens 8th Season; Four Games on Docket

Circuit to Operate With 15 Teams for 2nd Straight Year

Menasha — The Twin City Industrial Softball league will open its eighth season with four games at two Twin City diamonds this evening.

The circuit will operate with 15 teams for the second straight year. Soo Line is the only new entry, replacing Hardwood Products, which withdrew for the year.

Gilbert Paper will take on Main Office at 6:30 at the Neenah Recreation diamond and Banta's and Neenah Foundry will collide at the same time at Jefferson park.

8 O'Clock Games Games for 8 o'clock match Menasha Wooden Ware against Bergstrom Paper at the Neenah field and Strange Paper and Lakeview at Jefferson park.

All but the Gilbert - Main Office game are contests involving National division teams. The National division is made of eight teams who will play each other twice during the season while the American section has seven teams. They will play each other twice plus a third game with two other members of their division.

B-G Defends Title The two division champions will collide at the close of the season for the grand championship. Last year the Badger-Globe nine, American section winner, topped the Marathon Ramblers 5-0 for the championship.

Each year the divisions are realigned with the top teams from the American shifted into the National section and the two or three clubs with the poorest records in the latter loop transferred to the American.

This year, Badger - Globe, Menasha Wooden Ware and Strange Paper moved into the National league while Gilbert Paper, Main Office-Research and the Marathon Packers moved over to the American division.

Final Standings Last year's final American division standings included Badger - Globe and Strange Paper 12-2 (the Badgers won out in a playoff), Wooden Ware 11-3, Hardwood Products Northwestern Electrotape and Wisconsin Tissue Mills 4-10 and Neenah Paper 2-12.

National division standings were Marathon Ramblers 12-2, Lakeview 11-3, Bergstrom's 9-5, Banta's 8-6, Foundry 7-7, Main Office 5-9, Packers 3-11 and Gilbert Paper 1-13.

Plan Tourney Barring rainouts, the regular schedule is slated to conclude Aug. 26. In addition to the scratch bowling league will be held at 8:30 tonight at Mid-Town. Dick Walbrun is in an all-star game on June 26 and sponsor a tournament the week of July 6.

Don Althaus will be official scorer for the games at the Neenah field and Bob Lang will serve as scorer for the Jefferson park games.

At the present time, Madison Edgewood has one of the better records among state Catholic High school teams. The Crusaders have six straight victories, one a perfect game by Gary Moston, who made starts in the Catholic meet the last two years.

Blanks Beloit Edgewood turned back Beloit Catholic 5-0 last Saturday afternoon in its latest start as Cronin 4-1, and Farrell 4-3. Moston hurled a two-hitter. He Other Menasha varsity records include Fred Hollenbeck 3-0 and Tom Krysiak 4-1.

Arthur Ales Begins 23rd Year as Justice

8,000 Cases Heard By Menasha Police Judge Since 1935

Menasha — "I've presided over close to 8,000 cases," Arthur Ales, 8330 Appleton street, stated this morning as he began his 23rd consecutive year as Menasha justice of the peace and police judge.

Ales was elected justice of the peace in 1935 and held that post until 1941 when he was elected police judge. He has served under five different mayors during his long tenure of office.

The first man brought before him he had to send to jail and he stated he felt badly about it for a long time.

While police court is only held on Monday, Wednesday and Friday mornings, Ales points out he spends a great deal of time filling out state reports and trying to keep up with the new point system.

Ales, who has worked as a night watchman at the Gilbert Paper company for the last 26 years, stated he carried every ward in the city each time he ran for reelection.

He was born and raised in Iowa and came to Menasha in 1931. He is married and has two grown children.

Shares Up in Heavy Trade

Fractional Gains Prevail Among Leading Issues

New York — P. — The stock market edged further into new high ground for 1938 in heavy trading early this afternoon.

Leading issues advanced fractions to a point or so. Most gains were small.

There was no conspicuous leadership. Selected issues continued strong as specialties remained the features.

The ticker tape repeated Monday's performance by falling behind briefly in the opening flurry. Despite suspension of trading for 20 minutes because of a practice civil defense alert, a half million shares were traded in the first hour.

Ability of the market to buck ahead despite the resistance area represented by stock for sale at the high prices of the year was encouraging. The economic background included a reversal of the long downturn in steel production.

Turnover continued brisk. American Motors continued in demand and was slightly higher. Republic Aviation advanced more than a point. The firm is rehiring 1,000 workers.

Lorillard added more than a point. Lukens Steel made a similar gain. Alcoa was up around a point.

Douglas Aircraft was up around a point and a half. Boeing was up a fraction. United Aircraft declined a bit.

Bethlehem and U. S. Steel were firm. Republic rose, a fraction and Youngstown Sheet advanced about a point.

General Motors was steady. Chrysler picked up a fraction. Rafts were a bit ahead on average.

Chemicals showed plus signs. Anaconda and Kennecott were a little higher. Most others did little.

3,000 Pine Trees Planted by Boy Scout Troop 55

Menasha — The second major planting in Boy Scout Troop 55's campsite development program occurred Saturday when 30 scouts, committeemen and scout leaders planted approximately 3,000 pine trees at Camp Cowling.

The four year old trees circle the entire campsite. They were supplied by the Kimberly-Clark and Marathon corporation's nurseries and the state conservation department.

Other recent improvements to the campsite include the addition of new wagon wheel gates at the rustic arch entrance and the additional plantings of dogwood, multiflora roses and flowering shrubs which have been supplied through the efforts of Charles Weber and the Menasha High School Conservation Club.

Thirty-six scouts recently passed first and second class requirements at the camp. A number of tenderfoot scouts also were taken into the pack.

Groups to Plan For Memorial Day

Menasha — The Twin City Memorial day committee and all veterans and civic organization representatives will meet at 8 o'clock Wednesday night at the American Legion clubhouse at Second and Racine streets to discuss arrangements for the parade and program on Friday, May 30.

Groups wanting information about the parade should contact the VFW bar, according to Arthur O. Gutzmann, chairman of the Memorial day committee.

Neenah Fire Call

Neenah — Firemen extinguished a grass fire on Douglas street at 7:20 Sunday evening. No damage was caused.

Two From Allenville Injured in Accident

Oshkosh — Two Allenville young men were taken to Theall Clark hospital at 4:46 Saturday afternoon after the car in which they were riding rolled over on Highway 114, a half mile west of Highway 41, in the town of Neenah. They were treated at the hospital and released.

They are Joseph C. Still, 17, driver of the car, and Herman J. Still, 24, both of Allenville. The driver said he swerved on a curve to miss some children standing beside the edge of the road, skidded across the road and rolled over.

Menasha Unit Asks Parking Regulations

Menasha — A recommendation banning parking on the north side of Keyes street between Cleveland and Park streets was made by the Menasha park board during a meeting with the city council last week.

The board also recommended that the area from Keyes street to the Fox river on Park street should be strictly a loading and unloading area for boats and no parking should be allowed in this area.

It was also recommended proper signs be posted to show the changes and to put up a barricade to prevent anyone from driving into the river.

Another suggestion presented referred to the council's traffic was to make a 15 mile-an-hour and safety committee for final speed limit around the Smith decision.

Drivers Injured as Cars Collide at Neenah Intersection

Neenah — Two drivers were slightly injured Friday evening when their cars collided at Church and Caroline streets.

Richard J. Larabell, 32, 1029 Sterling avenue, and Horace H. Mann, 45, 150 Fifth street, were discharged from Theda Clark hospital after examination and treatment. Larabell suffered a bruised leg and Mann complained of bruises on both legs and soreness in his chest and right elbow.

Larabell was driving west on Caroline street and Mann was northbound on Church street.

Boston Gets Second Win From Lefty

Bob Smith Stops Cleveland, 8-5, In Only AL Tilt

By The Associated Press
Bob Smith, a guy called "Riverboat from Ol' Mizzou," picked up his first major league victory in his first start and the Boston Red Sox now have two victories from southpaws — matching their 1937 total.

"Riverboat," a wiry 6-footer named by Pacific Coast league writers who figured he was as crafty as a riverboat gambler walked but two, struck out four and gave up eight hits in an 8-5 decision over Cleveland yesterday. Frank Sullivan, inactive since April 20, had to help out with relief in the eighth.

Only Game
That was the only game played in the American league. Rain caused postponements of the rest of the schedule.

The Red Sox, playing in Fenway park where the left field fence dictates a predominantly right-handed staff, had just two southpaws last season and counted only single victories from Dean Stone and Frank Bauman.

1st Complete Game
Bauman collected his first complete game in the majors as the Red Sox split a pair of 2-1 games with a 12-inning victory in the nightcap of Sunday's double-header. Then came along "Riverboat," an off-season farmer and a graduate of Missouri who lives in a Clarence, Mo., with his wife and three sons. "Riverboat" was in trouble only twice. In the fourth, Dick Brown homered after a single and walk for a 3-1 Cleveland lead. In the eighth, "Minnie" Minoos drove in a run with a single and Bobby Avila stole home.

The Red Sox regained the lead with three in the fifth, starting with Don Buddin's first homer of the year, and then got rid of Ray Narleski, now 3-2, with four in the sixth. Ted Williams' lone hit, a single, drove in the clinching pair.

U. S. Men's, Women's Quintets Enplane for Home From Russia

Moscow — P — The all-triumphant U.S. men's basketball team returned today and began packing for the long trip home. Both the men, who finished as their tour of Russia with a 101-58 victory over Riga—the Soviet national champions — at Leningrad Monday night, and the women, enplane for the U.S. Wednesday. The women finished with a 58-42 triumph at Leningrad Monday night.

The men's team wound up with a 6-0 record and the women 4-2.

Buhl Faces Cards Tonight

'Marginal' Braves Must Fight for Jobs Before May 15 Cutdown Date

St. Louis — P — Monday's postponement gave Milwaukee's limping Braves some extra time to get ready for St. Louis, their opponent tonight in Busch stadium.

Bob Buhl is scheduled to pitch against the Cardinals. Those who are expected to start young Lindy McDaniel. Buhl had been ready to pitch Monday before rain and cold weather forced postponement of the night game.

Outfielders Wes Covington and Mel Roach spent part of Monday being treated for their ailing legs.

Covington, whose batting is needed by the Braves, still is recuperating from a knee injury suffered in a spring exhibition game.

Pulled Muscle
Roach, who has been batting .467, pulled a leg muscle during Sunday's victory over the Cardinals.

Others with aching limbs are catcher Del Crandall, who has a bruised ankle, and outfielder Andy Pafko, who has a bad leg. Roach's leg trouble might handicap him in his battle for a berth with the Braves, who like Don Kaiser and Humberto

Granny Hamner Bats Phillies To 8-3 Win Over Dodgers

By The Associated Press

It was just last week that reports started about the Philadelphia Phillies looking for a trade that would bring them some power. They should have started the whispering campaign sooner—Granny Hamner's been clubbin' the ball ever since.

In six games since the May 1 rumors, Hamner has knocked in a third of the Phils' 31 runs, getting 10 hits in 23 trips — six of them for extra bases. That's a .435 batting average and an .821 slugging percentage.

Not bad for a 31-year-old shortstop-second baseman taking his first fling at third base in a decade.

100th Homer
He drove in five runs with a bases-loaded triple and the one hundredth homer of his 14-year career Monday night, carrying the Phils to an 8-3 victory over the Los Angeles Dodgers.

"That's not very many for a guy who's been around as long as I have," he observed with a touch of weariness in the dress-suit room.

"But this was one of the best nights I've ever had. Not the best, though. I remember one time back in 1938 I drove in seven against St. Louis. I think I got a bigger thrill out of that. We were building into a real ball club then."

Granny has never hit .300.

but missed by only one point in 1954. Last season he registered but a faint thud in the batting statistics with a .227 showing.

Pittsburgh gave up nine runs in the ninth to the San Francisco Giants but salvaged an 11-10 victory that netted them a

Giants' Problem Solved, Thanks To Cepeda's Dad

San Francisco — P — The first base situation appears settled for the San Francisco Giants because rookie Orlando Cepeda's father ruled for baseball.

Cepeda, currently hitting a robust .329 with seven homers and 18 runs batted in, had a yen for basketball as well as baseball.

He starred in high school as a basketball player at San Juan, Puerto Rico, but his father, Pedro, laid down the law. "Either play baseball or nothing," the powerful athlete was told.

Pedro, now dead, played some 15 years in the Puerto Rican league and once won a batting championship with a .464 average.

Giardello Posts 1-Sided Win Over Calhoun

San Francisco — P — Because his work wasn't too hard here and his paycheck was fat, middleweight Joey Giardello would like another San Francisco bout soon — possibly against Holly Mims in June.

The No. 4 contender found Rory Calhoun a much less difficult foe than a year ago and decked him twice Monday night while winning a 1-sided decision at 10 rounds in the Cow Palace. Calhoun is ranked No. 5.

Giardello, undefeated in his last 16 fights, hung up his seventy-fourth victory. The winning boxer from Rosedale, Long Island, N. Y., weighed 159½ to 158½ for his free swinging opponent from White Plains, N. Y.

In Cleveland last May 17, Joey won a split decision. Referee Vern Bybee scored it 99-90. Judge Eddie James saw it 100-89 and Judge Jack Silver had it 93-91.

Vike Trackmen Play Host Role In Triangular

Lawrence Netters Scheduled for 3 Meets This Week

The Lawrence college tennis team, with three dual matches on its agenda, is scheduled to be the most active of the Viking spring sports units this week.

The other three teams — track, golf and baseball — are slated for two appearances apiece this week.

The Vike netmen, who beat St. Norbert last weekend to break a losing streak at four straight, travel to Ripon Wednesday. Home duals are set for Friday and Saturday against Carleton and Marquette, respectively.

Lawrence's golfers were to play St. Norbert at the Oneida course this afternoon. They will play host to Ripon and St. Olaf at the Riverview course Saturday afternoon. The Vikes have won two of three duals and have placed third in a quadrangular.

Triangular Set
Viking track representatives will engage in its only triangular of the season when they play host to Oshkosh and Northern Michigan at 3:30 Wednesday afternoon on Whiting field. Oshkosh's Titans made off with the top spot in a quadrangular in a visit here earlier this season. At that time, Lawrence placed third.

In other competition to date, the Vike cindermen have won two of three dual meets. Tad Pinkerton, who missed the meet Saturday in a narrow loss to Knox, is expected to be back in action Wednesday.

Lawrence's baseball team is due to travel to Oshkosh Wednesday afternoon and will be at home (South Side Athletic club field) to Ripon Friday. The Vikes, who are 0-3 for the season, lost to Oshkosh, 9-5, and to Ripon, 5-4, in initial meetings.

Clintonville — The Truckers of Clintonville High defeated Shawano's baseball Indians, 7-3 Monday afternoon at Shawano.

Clint shortstop Terry Lichtenberg unloaded a 3-run homer off starter Norm Ostapinski in the second and the winners coasted home behind the stellar 5-hit pitching of Russ Huebner.

Huebner finished with a 3-walk, 9-strikeout performance. With the exception of the first frame, when Shawano tied the count, he was in command all the way.

Hits Double
Lichtenberg inaugurated a Clint mischief with a lead-off double in the first. Huebner lashed a single sending Lichtenberg to third, from where he scored on an error on the throw-in. Ron Buchberger singled, and Huebner scampered of home as Leon Westphal laid down a perfect squeeze bunt. Ren Ketchenago's single, Lyle Frechette's triple, and a fielder's choice tied the score in the second.

Shawano's half of the first, including Monday night's 10-1 loss to league-leading Fargo — Moorhead, the Pheasants have yielded 77 runs, or just under 13 a game. Meanwhile, Aberdeen has mounded duties at this point and scored eight runs. The Pheasants' debacle Monday night was viewed by only 158 fans, the smallest turnout in club history. South Bend, Ind. — P — Jim Remmert of Wisconsin shot a 69, two under par, taking the individual honors Monday in a 3-way golf meet won by Notre Dame.

Notre Dame beat Wisconsin, 132 to 131, handing the Badgers their second loss of the season.

Wisconsin placed second by defeating Indiana, 177 to 91. Notre Dame beat Indiana, 24-12.

Finale With Cedar Rapids Called Off

Their series finale with Cedar Rapids having been postponed because of cold weather Monday night, the Fox Cities Foxes will play host to the second-place Burlington Bees at 8 o'clock tonight on Goodland field.

Burlington moved into second place in the 3-1 league Monday night by knocking off Green Bay, 9-4, on the Bluejay's field. In the other game, Davenport took over sole possession of first place by whipping Rochester, 7-3.

Take Both Games

In beginning a scheduled 3-game set, Burlington will be making its first visit to Goodland field. The Bees swept both games of an abbreviated series from the Foxes at Burlington last week.

Foxes' Manager Pete Suder has announced no definite pitching choice for tonight, but it is expected to be either Ron Bloodworth or Bill O'Donnell.

Rochester doesn't have a Los Angeles-type screen, but its ball park is becoming a haven for Three-L league home run hitters.

Total is 18
Three more homers were hit Monday night. This brought the 5-game total in the Minnesota city to 18.

Don Mincher homered twice for Davenport, his seventh-inning wallop coming with a man on. His first was a solo homer in the sixth.

Ron McCutcheson had four hits for Rochester, including a two-run homer in the eighth. The Davsox' Jim Lynn had three hits.

Burlington had only one hit in the sixth inning but scored six times as Green Bay's Eddie Rakow, who had shut out the Iowans last week, hit a 5-walk wild spell. Fred Caviness' 2-run single was the lone blow.

Green Bay started with a 3-run first inning against Cliff Anderson, but the only other damage to him was Tom Plath's pinch-hit homer in the seventh. Anderson had a 5-hit-ter.

Doctors Doubt 'Campy' Can Recover Completely

Hold Out Hope That Paralyzed Catcher Can Make Progress Enough for Ordinary Living

BY JOE REICHLER
New York — P — Doctors expressed hope today that Roy Campanella, paralyzed Los Angeles Dodger catcher, would make sufficient progress for "ordinary living" but expressed doubt that he will ever make a total recovery.

The statements were made by both Dr. Howard Rusk, head of the Rusk Institute of the New York Medical and Rehabilitation center, where Campanella was transferred yesterday, and by Dr. Robert W. Sengstaken, who performed the laminectomy neck fracture operation on Roy three months ago.

Still Quadriplegic
"Campanella is still a quadriplegic, meaning he is paralyzed from the shoulders down," said Dr. Sengstaken. "He can use his shoulders and bend his wrists very weakly. There is no muscle function below the shoulders and he has intermittent feelings down to the groin."

Dr. Sengstaken said Campanella has shown some improvement during the last 30 days but he said the progress was not as rapid as he had hoped.

"It is not a good sign," he said. "We would like to have continued progressive movement. The longer he remains without progressive change, the less chance he has of recovery. However, we have seen some signs that are favorable. His physical condition remains good. Now is the time to get him up with braces."

Campanella had been in Glen Cove hospital ever since he was critically injured in an automobile accident near his home Jan. 28.

Too Early
"It is too early to give a definite prognosis as to whether Roy will ever recover fully," said Dr. Rusk. "It is not now possible to tell how much movement will return."

"Before World War II, a patient of this type was regarded as hopeless. He remained in bed the rest of his life. However, since then, we have made great progress. Of the 300 to 400 such cases that I've been connected with, 75 per cent were able to return to normal functions, such as shaving, feeding himself and even walk again, with the aid of a brace."

The doctors said Campanella had lost 15 to 20 pounds but that his appetite was good and his spirits and morale excellent. "That is greatly in his favor," they said.

Appleton's "Stu" Locklin batted .286 during the latest reported 1-week stretch of games with the San Diego club of the Pacific Coast league. Locklin had four hits in 14 at bats, scored two runs and batted in three.

For the past two weeks left fielder Locklin has had nine hits in 31 trips.

Marion's Bert Thiel was handed his first loss of the season in the recent period, pitching for the Minneapolis Millers of the American Association. Thiel was the loser in a 3-1 setback at the hands of Charles-ten.

The starter, Thiel, hurled eight innings, allowing seven hits and three runs (all earned). He walked one and struck out two. He hasn't won yet.

CF Much Shorter

3-1 Foul Lines Compare With Those in Majors

Cedar Rapids, Iowa—Except for the far reaches of center field, batsmen in the Three-I league will be aiming at fences comparable in distance to those in the major leagues, according to a comparison of figures made by Three-I President Hal Totten.

Totten found that the Three-I league's parks average only two feet less down the left field line than do those in the American league, and only seven feet less than those in the National. The right field foul lines in the Three-I league are three feet less than those in the American and but seven feet less than the National.

Story Different
"However," Totten says, "when it comes to center field, the story is different. In this case, our parks average 52 feet shorter than the American league and 48 feet less than the National. And this means, of course, that the distances to the fences between the foul lines and center field are increasing—shorter in this league than in the big league parks. But they are still respectable distances."

The average Three-I league left field foul line of 325 feet is only five feet shorter than the major leagues' average left field foul line. And, the Three-I loop's average right field fence distance of 319 feet is just five feet closer than in the majors.

However, the average center field distance in the Class B circuit — 372 feet — is 50 feet closer than the average center field wall in the majors.

Longer Than Majors
"Among other things, it was shown that Davenport's big park actually is longer to left field than the overall major league average, and both Cedar Rapids and Green Bay have right field lines longer than the major league average there."

"Conversely, it was interesting to note that six big league parks have left field lines shorter than the Three-I average — Baltimore, Boston, Cleveland and New York in the American; and Los Angeles and Milwaukee in the National. As to right field, seven parks have lines shorter than our average. Baltimore, Boston, and New York in the junior loop and Los Angeles, Milwaukee, Pittsburgh, and St. Louis in the National are shorter."

In the Three-I league, Rochester has the shortest left field line—311 feet—and Davenport the longest—350. Likewise, Rochester is shortest to right field—310—and Green Bay's 328 is the longest. To center field, the Fox Cities' 336 is the lowest, while Green Bay's center field barrier is the farthest away at 392 feet.

Harvie Ward's Suspension Is Lifted

Golfer to Drill For U. S. Amateur And World Tourney

New York — P — Harvie Ward, Jr., returns to the amateur golf fold today — fully forgiven — with a chance to prove himself the greatest amateur champion since Bob Jones.

A year's suspension for expense irregularities was lifted by the U. S. Golf association, permitting Ward to point for the National Amateur at San Francisco Sept. 8-13 and the first world championship at St. Andrews, Scotland, a month later.

"I'm afraid I've let my game go to pot," the boyish, 32-year-old North Carolinian said in San Francisco. "I'm going to bear down on my game and get ready for the next National."

Consecutive Titles
Before running into difficulties with the USGA over tournament expenses, Ward won consecutive national amateur championships in 1955 and 1956 and went through Walker cup meetings in 1953 and 1955 without losing a decision.

Ward has set two goals for himself:
1. To match Jones' record of five amateur triumphs.
2. To crack Lawson Little's record of 15 consecutive match play victories set in 1934-35.

Ward is rated the best amateur player in the world and regarded by some as a threat to the present-day pros.

He insists he never will yield to the lure of professional golf because "I play the game for the fun I get out of it. If I had to worry about winning for a living, I'd hate the game."

Tony Anthony Knocks Out Artie Miller

New York — P — Picture-punching Tony Anthony wants a crack at his old Olympic teammate, heavyweight champion Floyd Patterson, but he's in no hurry for the title shot.

"In about a year would be about right," said Manager Ernie Braca after Anthony knocked out Artie Miller in 1:41 of the sixth round of a 1-sided bout at St. Nicholas arena Monday night.

"Tony weighed the heaviest of his career for Miller (174 to Miller's 179) and is still growing. We'd like to get him to 185. With the added weight, more fights and more experience he'll be ready."

Barca said he'd like to get Tony another shot at light heavyweight champion Archie Moore, too, "but for money. We didn't get any for the last one."

Moore knocked out Anthony last December.

Anthony won every round from his fellow New Yorker Monday night.

A right to the head dropped the muscular 5-1 underdog for six in the third round and a left hook decked Artie for keeps in the sixth.

At right field, seven parks have lines shorter than our average. Baltimore, Boston, and New York in the junior loop and Los Angeles, Milwaukee, Pittsburgh, and St. Louis in the National are shorter."

No Special Brand of Nitwit

Lack of Common Sense Termed Main Cause of Boating Mishaps

BY DION HENDERSON
Of The Associated Press

A major cause of boating accidents has been uncovered, and it turns out to be the same thing that contributes to the hazards besetting other human activities all the way from a Sunday drive to a speedy trip down the cellar stairs.

Plain foolishness, that is. In other words, you take a nitwit out of a whizzing automobile and put him into a whizzing motorboat, and he's the same nitwit with only a change of locale. This is a matter of moment, although not necessarily of comfort, to responsible boatmen. At least they don't have a special brand of nitwit to deal with.

Makes Survey
The Outboard Boating Club of America, carrying out a survey intended to classify the causes of accidents so that missionary work could be aimed at the most dangerous areas, found that juvenile operators, storms, collisions and fires and explosions rank fairly well down among factors.

But leading all the rest is the category best labeled plain lack of common sense. Overloading, per cent of the boat operators standing up in the boat and involved were under 20 years old, and the average of all similar misjudgments accounted for more than 35 per cent of all accidents checked by OBC.

On the other hand, only 9.2 per cent of the boat operators involved were under 20 years old, and the average of all similar misjudgments accounted for more than 35 per cent of all accidents checked by OBC.

Storms cause 9.5 per cent of the mishaps and collisions 8 per cent. Fewer than 2 per cent were caused by fires, and explosions.

Seeks to Avoid Ultra-Short Fences in Future

Frick Asks Rules Committee for 325-Foot Minimum

New York —P— Nothing can be done about the Los Angeles coliseum's short left field fence, says Baseball Commissioner Ford Frick, but it shouldn't happen again.

The commissioner Monday asked the playing rules committee to set a minimum of 325 feet for foul lines and 400 feet for center field on all parks built or remodeled after June 1.

"There is nothing we can do about parks that have been built," Frick said. "But I have a hunch that 10 or 15 new parks will be constructed in the majors and minors in the next four or five years."

"We want them to know the minimum distances while they are still in the blueprint stages."

"I don't think it is a good situation in Los Angeles," the commissioner said. "But it is a temporary thing until we get a new park."

The rules committee is headed by James T. Gallagher of the Philadelphia Phillies. Gallagher was asked by the commissioner to take a poll of his 10-man committee so that a definite rule could be made by the time of the All-Star game in July.

The Phils scored five runs in the first against young Don Drysdale. Hamner's triple was the big blow.

Three more came across in the fifth against lefty reliever Jackie Collum. Hamner's first home run of the year, with a man on, and Stan Lopata's second, both in the Coliseum, got the job done. Ray Semproch, a rookie right-hander, gained his third victory.

Vern Law, who managed to win his third, had a 5-hitter and had blanked the Giants from the first inning on, going into the ninth. Then all sorts of things happened — two errors that allowed five unearned runs, seven hits off four Buc pitchers and three pinch hits, tying the National league record for one inning by one club. Jim King, Johnny Antonelli and Bob Speake delivered the pinch blows, consecutive doubles that drove in five runs.

A 3-run homer by R. C. Stevens marked a 5-run Pirate seventh that chased Ruben Gomez to his second defeat. Frank Thomas' eighth homer, with a man on, triggered a 3-run ninth for what looked like a rout, then became barely adequate.

Ray Jablonski and rookie Orlando Cepeda homered in the Giant ninth.

Daniel E. Solberg, 18, 1100 W. Wisconsin avenue, Monday was placed on five years probation for burglarizing the Fox Valley Lutheran high school, 2626 N. Oneida street. He also got one year of probation for stealing cash and assorted valuables from the school, with the terms to run concurrently.

Solberg and a companion, Wolfgang Heyn, 18, 204 Elm street, Kaukauna, who received an identical sentence Wednesday, also were ordered to share in making restitution for damage done to the building and articles stolen.

The two youths confessed to Appleton police April 10 they entered the school March 6, 7, 11 and April 3. They did about $400 damage to exterior and interior doors by prying them open and stole $20.51, damaged a vending machine, stole a $10 cash box and nine pens and pencils worth $7.45.

Municipal Judge Oscar J. Schmieghe withheld sentencing both youths and put them on probation. Heyn was ordered held in the county jail until he gets a job. Heyn is a displaced person who came to this country from Germany about five years ago.

Purpose of the meeting is to hear Harold Austin, Milwaukee, report on the "Best Appliance Values - Better Buy Now" promotion to be held in the Fox Cities for 10 days beginning Wednesday.

The Fox Cities are acting as a proving grounds for the experiment which will draw observers from throughout the country.

Merchandising, advertising and plans men will be at the Kentucky meeting to hear about the pilot program.

Nurse Reports Test Results

A total of 1,602 Outagamie county students took part in tuberculosis skin tests during April, according to Mrs. Marion Freeman, county health nurse.

Forty-three of the students, or 2.6 per cent, tested positive, she said, indicating they had come in contact with tuberculosis. Ten students were listed as questionable. Twelve others will undergo retesting.

Participants were in fourth and eighth grades and juniors in high school.

1,000 Members a Day

Nashville — The Methodist church took in an average of more than 1,000 new members a day during 1957 on "profession of faith."

Preliminary Work of Converting the intersection of Highway 41 and Highway 10, northwest of Appleton, into a diamond-shaped interchange, with a grade separation, is underway. Stability Still Key

Local Labor Market Brightest in Months

April was the brightest month so far this year for the Outagamie county job-seeker.

The number of jobs available increased. So did the number of people who found jobs. And the number of job-seekers declined.

A report of developments in the labor market by the Wisconsin State Employment Service office in Appleton revealed the changing employment picture.

While things generally went for the better, WSES Office Manager Fred R. Gehrke cautions that the labor market is extremely "status quo." People aren't leaving their jobs; industries, with the exception of small employers, aren't expanding.

Gehrke reports his office helped 156 people find work in April. This compares with 84 in March and 137 a year ago. The upswing in the number is due, he says, to an intensive canvass of small employers by his staff.

304 Openings

The staff referred 310 people to employers during April, compared to 138 in March and 285 in April a year ago.

The number of job applications on hand at April's end was 1,640, compared to 1,997 in March and 1,026 in April, 1957. The number is the lowest of the year.

Gehrke said his staff had 304 openings to work with in April, compared to 138 in March and 359 a year ago.

In addition to the 156 placements in industry or commerce, Gehrke reports there were 17 people hired for farm work from a total of 18 who were referred to farmers. This compares with 3 out of 11 in March and 7 out of 10 in April last year.

A breakdown of the 156 jobs found in April through the WSES office shows 22 went into clerical or sales work, 35 in service jobs, 16 into skilled jobs, 16 into semi-skilled jobs and 66 into unskilled jobs.

Trucking Firm Plans Expansion

$300,000 Warehouse, Dock Construction Set By Bay Company

Green Bay — A — Leicht Transfer and Storage company, today announced plans to start immediate construction of a $300,000 warehouse and dock project in anticipation of increased shipping tonnage with the completion of the Great Lakes-St. Lawrence Seaway.

The development will consist of a 60,000-square foot warehouse, a 450-ton steel dock and a crane with a lifting capacity of 45 to 50 tons. It will be located on a 7-acre site on the west bank of the Fox river near downtown Green Bay bought last year from the Chicago and North Western Railway.

Recently, the Leicht company completed an expansion project at its main warehouse and dock upstream. The dock there was extended to 550 feet to permit the unloading or loading of two ships at the same time.

When the firm purchased the downtown site from the railway last year, it announced that over a period of 20 years up to 1,200 feet of dock space and 10 warehouses would be made available.

Three Men Receive Honors For Valley Council Scouting

Donald Brown, Wallace Mooney, Guy McCorison Picked for Citations

Neenah — Three Fox Cities men were cited with two of the highest awards of scouting by the Valley council, Boy Scouts of America, Monday evening at the council's annual Fellowship dinner.

They are Donald W. Brown, 538 N. Lawe street, Appleton; Wallace Mooney, 254 W. Wisconsin avenue, Kaukauna; and Guy McCorison, 932 E. College avenue, Appleton.

Brown, scoutmaster of Troop 8, First Congregational church, Appleton, received the Wood Badge in recognition of his completion of a special scouting leadership program and his example in leadership. He becomes the fourth scout leader from the Valley council to be so honored, and is among a select group of about 3,500 in the United States to own the badge.

The scroll, tartan plaid neckerchief and beads signifying the award were conferred by John C. Wollwage, chairman of council leadership training.

Silver Beaver Awards
Mooney and McCorison were awarded the Silver Beaver medal for distinguished service. Mooney, a Kaukauna businessman, has been active in scouting for 31 years. He became an Eagle Scout 34 years after joining the Boy Scouts and a scoutmaster 22 years later. He is former chairman of the district leader training committee and now is chairman of the Cub Scout committee. Mooney is active in church activities at the First Methodist church, Kaukauna.

McCorison, vice president in charge of sales for the Thilmany Pulp and Paper company, was singled out as being typical of the administrative branch of scouting, as distinguished from the leadership branch.

gushed from the leadership branch. He has been a scout and scoutmaster, and has been on the council's executive board for 13 years. He served as its president for three years, vice president for four years, and is currently president of the personnel committee.

He has also served on the executive board of the Appleton YMCA and as general chairman of the Lawrence college development fund.

Mooney's award was presented by Joseph McCarty, Kaukauna, who received the Silver Beaver in 1946, and McCorison was decorated by Walter Swanson, Menasha, who was elected to the honor in 1953.

Cite Eagle Scouts
Ten Eagle Scouts were also cited for their achievements. They had received their badges at courts of honor earlier.

The boys are David Earle and John Wiley, Troop 16, Appleton; Jim Nield and John Christianson, Troop 43, Neenah; Robert Mueller, Post 50, Menasha; Tim Tuchscherer, Troop 55, Menasha; Jerry De Bruin and Gary Kuborn, Post 44, Kimberly; Robert Renier, Post 10, Appleton, and Barry Hammerberg, Troop 7, New London.

Five other Eagle Scouts, in line for citation at the dinner, were unable to attend. They are John Austin, Troop 27, Kaukauna; Robert Rose, Troop 24, Brillion; and Keith Laux, Post 25, Jim Potter, Post 10, and Dan Fanelow, Troop 16, all of Appleton.

Home of John Jay to Become Public Shrine

Bedford Village, N.Y. — The Bedford House, for 30 years the home of John Jay, first chief justice of the United States, is to become a public shrine.

Edwin G. McMichael, Westchester county executive, helped save the 30-acre site from house-wreckers as he asked the Westchester board of supervisors to take the first fiscal step toward buying the property for $136,000.

The county then will give the property to New York state for operation as a public shrine. Gov. Averell Harriman recently signed a bill permitting the state to accept the property.

Scouters Told To Give Youth Inspiration

George Walter Addresses Assembly At Fellowship Dinner

Neenah — Boy Scout leaders were exhorted to implant "the promise of tomorrow" in the spirits of the young men in their charge by George Walter, dean of education at Lawrence college, Appleton, at the annual Valley Fellowship dinner at the Presbyterian church here.

Leaders were urged to "Pro- vide programs where these boys can become as tall as they may," in order to "bring to flower their spiritual abilities." He termed as un-American the advice given youths to "play it cozy" and said that this nation became magnificent on the risk of adventure.

"So many adults have lost faith in the future that there is little cause to wonder when young people seeking jobs inquire about a company's pension plan," the professor said.

Goldfish Swallows
Walter likened the youth of today, "with their leather jackets on and their pants at half mast," to the goldfish swallows of another era to which he admits having been a part.

"We didn't care about any thing then and from this we became insensible to the nobility of our heritage," he said.

"Man's job is not to make a barrel of money, but to create house-wreckers as he asked the and recreate his own being," he added.

The speaker told Scout leaders that youth will walk in the image of men who work to guide their young lives along paths of honor, nobility and operation as a public shrine self-respect.

Many will never acknowledge what you have done for them, he said, but they will grow up and seek and find and follow stars. They will not belong to you, but this will not matter, for each year you will garner the harvest of that which you planted.

"You help us all, who believe in tomorrow," he concluded.
